This May Be Summer, But Folks Just Aren't Fall-ing for It

Summer activities are Fall-ing off in Pottstown. The fur coat and umbrella with Anita Cara (far left), Pottstown RD 3, were bought for later months but it felt good to try them on for size in yesterday's unreasonable facsimile of Summer weather. Stanley Glanski, of 15 Riverside avenue, is cleaning a shotgun to be ready for both the Fall game season and the next guy who asks him if it's wet enough for him. If those Winter garments hanging on the line would flap their arms once, their owners probably would rush to get into them. The two girls raking leaves (and perhaps looking for the last rose of Summer) are Amelia Palladino, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Palladino, 23 Walnut street, and a cousin, Mary Amelia Palladino, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palladino, 28 Walnut street.

Boy Bicyclist Hit By Auto, Injured

A 13-year-old Bechtelsville RD 1 bicyclist suffered a compound fracture of the skull last night when he was struck by a car as he attempted to turn into his home on the Congo road a half-mile north of Gilbertsville.

The youngster, Thomas C. Yarnall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yarnall, was riding south on the Congo road when a car driven by Lawrence M. Yerger, Perkiomenville RD 1, came up behind him.

Yerger said he saw young Yarnall riding in front of him. The boy made a sudden left turn in front of his car, however, when he drew abreast of the entrance to his home.

In an effort to avoid hitting him, Yerger jammed on his brakes and swerved away from his bicycle. The right rear end of his car, skidding under the sudden pressure of the brakes, swung around and knocked the youngster from his bicycle.

The boy's father said later he could see the skid marks on the rough macadam road where Yerger attempted to bring his car to a stop. He said his son had no lights on his bicycle, but apparently Yerger had seen him and had made an effort to avoid the accident.

Unable to summon help since he had no telephone, Yarnall ran to his son's side. Mrs. Yarnall drove the family car to the road and her husband and Yerger carefully lifted the boy to the rear seat.

They drove him to the Memorial Hospital where he was admitted for treatment at 8:40 o'clock.

State police of the Collegeville substation investigated.

TWO DEER CAUSED three sedans—each driven by a man in his 30's enroute to Firestone's plant in Pottstown—to get in a one-behind-the-other crash yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock along Route 422, three miles west of Pottstown.

West Reading State Trooper Joseph V. Bressi estimated damage at from $500 to $700.

Jacob Roether, 36, Reading, a mechanical department worker, said he stopped his 1942 sedan when he saw the deer bound across the highway near Douglassville.

Paul D. Houck, 30, Wernersville RD 3, a salary worker in plant development, was caught in the middle when his 1948 sedan hit Roether's car and then was rammed in the rear by the 1937 sedan of How-

Wet Weather Woe Fouls Five Days

The weather bureau gave this week's weather in Pottstown a big "F" in all subjects yesterday for serving up five full foul days.

Since late Saturday, the U. S. Weather bureau office in Reading reported yesterday afternoon, there has been no sunshine worth talking about and there has been more than 2.36 inches of rain.

The weather was making a passing grade in the temperature department until yesterday, when the day's average fell to 59 degrees, or nine full degrees below the average for that date.

This kind of performance is wrecking the fine start made by September, which had held very close to normal in temperature.

• • •

THE MAPS REVEALED that the sunshine blight has been caused by a large low-pressure area that was fronting on the Plain states but is moving slowly out of the picture. The area has gradually been losing its intensity, the bureau reported, and now is "shallow" or weak.

But, he added reluctantly, it's not quite shallow enough to prevent the possibility of more showers falling today. These should be the clearing showers that everybody else has been talking about since Sunday.

Some people look on this wet weather as a blessing in disguise for Pottstown hay fever sufferers, since the rain tends to settle pollen. All the sufferers are getting now is bronchitis and pneumonia.

• • •

EXCEPT FOR THE lower temperature, yesterday was almost the spit and image of Sept. 13, 1949, the day, incidentally, when Pottstown held its primary election.

The high temperature that day was 71 degrees and .61 inches of rain fell.

By coincidence, the foul weather that day also resulted from the tag end of an Atlantic gale. The current nastiness is supposed to be the misty breath of a hurricane which just curry-combed the seaboard.

This morning's predicted drizzle should be the last of the precipitation. Clouds will hang on this afternoon and tomorrow as the temperature rises.

Yesterday's damp chill brought the season's first fires to many a furnace.

BOARD TO PRESS EXTENSION OF SANITARY NEEDS

Request for Water, Sewers On Sheridan, Mintzer Streets Will Go to Borough

By HARRY G. TOLAND
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Preliminary action to try to bring water and sewage lines to five Sheridan and Mintzer street blocks will start in a day or two, J. Alfred Marquet, health board secretary, said last night.

At its meeting Monday night, the board passed a motion to recommend to the "proper authorities" that water and sewage services be installed on specified blocks.

Marquet said he would talk to Borough Manager Dow I. Sears "within the next day or so" to discover to which borough group the recommendation should be. Then, letters carrying the board's motion will be sent.

"Of course," Marquet stressed, "the board can suggest. In the end, borough council must take the action."

• • •

MEANWHILE, residents of the five blocks were virtually unanimous in declaring enthusiasm for the proposed project.

The blocks named in the board's motion are on Sheridan street between Morris and Jackson and half a block beyond Jackson; and on Mintzer street between Beech and Jackson streets.

"It's like a dream that never came true," said James Williams of 236 Mintzer street. "It's been a long time since we have even hoped for this."

Williams, like some residents of

BOROUGH HOPES FOR NO LAYOFFS

May Keep Workers Busy Despite Lack of Funds For New Street Building

J. Wayne Knause, chairman of council's finance committee, gave assurance yesterday that the tight financial situation in the highway department does not mean that men will be laid off.

"We don't want to lay off if we don't have to," he said. "We can put some of the men on sewer work and have the other do just the necessary work around town, like street patching."

Knause told council Monday night that by the end of this month the highway department would have only $14,000 left, and that payrolls alone totaled $3500 monthly.

He declared yesterday, however, that the borough did not contemplate laying off any of the 24 highway and sewer employes.

• • •

THE FINANCE committee head also said that low funds would not curtail snow removal this year.

Legal Concept Of Retirement Asked by Board

An interpretation of the State law on the subject of retirement of professional personnel at the age of 62 up to 70 years apparently is behind the action of the Pottstown board of education in seeking advice from the legal division of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction.

The fact that assistance is being sought was disclosed yesterday after it was learned that the teachers committee of the school board, working with the superintendent of schools, is referring its much discussed retirement-at-62 mandate to Harrisburg.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, State superintendent of public instruction, said at his home in Harrisburg last night, that such an action by a school board is customary when there is any question on the interpretation.

Admitting that the matter has not come to his attention and adding that it probably would be handled by the department's legal division or the school employes' retirement board, Dr. Haas asserted that referral of an issue is "quite common, especially on matters of interpretation."

• • •

J. Y. SHAMBACH, secretary of the school employes' retirement board, bore out Dr. Haas statement, saying that advice on interpretation of the law "is proper."

Shambach likewise asserted that any request from Pottstown for assistance in interpreting the legislation "has not come to my desk."

Stanley C. Fellows, head of the legal division of the Department of Public Instruction, was out of town and not available for comment.

A decision to take the entire matter to Harrisburg for opinion and interpretation may have stemmed from an incident during the Pottstown school directors' meeting Monday night.

At that time, when a brief discussion of the August resolution was held, culminating in its referral back to the teachers' committee, Director Victor J. Roberts said:

"It may have been a misapprehension, but weren't we following an action prescribed by the State? It was my impression that we were following a system consistent with the rules of the Department of Education."

• • •

A TASTE OF OPINION held elsewhere on the subject of mandated retirement at 62 is shown in the attitude of The Hill school toward its masters.

There, where the retirement age is 65, four out of 58 masters are 63 or better.

Dean of the masters with respect to age is 73-year-old George D.

Ex-Local Man Is Arrested on Burglary Count

A 27-year-old ex-convict, who was released on parole on the condition that he stay out of Pottstown, was committed to the Montgomery county prison without bail yesterday afternoon after his arrest by Norristown police for burglary.

The ex-convict, Michael Toth, formerly of Pottstown, was arrested yesterday morning by Sgt. Patrick O'Hara and Patrolman John Taylor of the Norristown police when he was discovered hiding in the brush behind a Norristown tire company.

Police found him while investigating a broken window at the rear of the building.

According to police, Toth admitted breaking the window, but maintained he did not have time enough to enter the building. He later confessed to burglarizing a service station when police found $23 in bills and $9 in change in his pockets.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Elizabeth Wolfe, of Norristown, who ordered him committed to jail. He also was held for further investigation.

• • •

TOTH, WHO listed his address as a Norristown hotel, was on parole from a burglary sentence, Norristown Police Chief Robert Reilly said. He had served 34 months of a 57-month sentence imposed after he was arrested for a robbery in Trappe.

It was reported he had obtained work since his release from prison and had been earning upwards of $80 a week.

He is the younger brother of Andrew Toth, also formerly of Pottstown, who with Louis Castrinoes, another Pottstown man, was arrested while burglarizing the Linfield Fire company the

THEY'LL HONOR TRAGEDY VICTIMS

Guards Off on Solemn Duty

Seventy men and officers of Company A shoved off on short but solemn duty last night — the funerals of 33 fellow Pennsylvania National Guardsmen who died in Monday night's troop train crash near Coshocton, Ohio.

They probably will return from Wilkes-Barre late Friday, after serving as part of honor guard for the bodies lying in state and during the separate funerals there.

The local guardsmen left Pottstown at 7:10 p. m. in three 6 by 6 trucks, loaned by a Philadelphia unit, plus the company's own jeep with trailer in tow. They will return the same way.

The Pottstonians will be part of a 1000-man unit solemnizing the funerals of the men who lost their lives en route to camp and active duty.

• • •

WHEN MOUNTING guard, they will be dressed in full khakis with white gloves and will carry their weapons—rifles and carbines for the 64 enlisted men; pistols for the six officers.

The local caravan joined a 15-truck convoy of men from the First battalion, 111th Regimental combat team, at Montgomeryville and proceeded to Wilkes-Barre via Allentown and Hazleton.

In World War II style, they were crammed into the trucks like 5 o'clock subway riders. The benches on either side of each truck interior were jammed to numbing density and four or five sat on the floor in the middle of each vehicle.

For the trip, officers and men dressed in dungarees and helmet liners and carried packs, blankets and weapons.

Buoyed Allies Surge In North, Attempt to Close Defense Slot

TOKYO, Thursday, Sept. 14 (AP)—United Nations forces attacked today on the northern front, striving for a solid defense line to protect a buildup for a promised offensive against the Korean Reds.

Cheered by the U. N. field commander's word that they will break out of their defense box soon, Americans and South Koreans drove eastward this morning. Their mission was to close a gap of four and one-half miles on the eastern end of the northern wall.

Associated Press correspondent Bem Price said South Korean infantry was shoving ahead with support from American planes and artillery. He placed the action about 35 miles northeast of Taegu, cornerstone of the U. N. defense.

The hole that needed plugging was just west of Red-held Angang where the Communists drove a wedge then unaccountably failed to exploit it.

The attack was a continuation of what the U. S. Eighth Army communique this morning called an effort to "establish a strong line."

To this end during the past 24 hours, the communique said, the South Korean Third and Capital divisions, aided by American units, strengthened defensive positions along the road linking Angang with the Red-held east coast port of Pohang. These units, it said, made "limited attacks to gain tactical objectives."

• • •

THE SOUTH KOREAN Eighth division, the communique added, advanced 2000 to 3000 yards north and east of the area around Yongchon, 20 miles east of Taegu.

On the close approaches to Taegu, U. N. forces and the Reds seesawed in bitter but small actions for control of the hills north and northwest of the key communications center.

The communique said U. S. First Cavalry division troopers made "successful" attacks Wednesday afternoon for hills about seven miles northwest of Taegu and another one nine miles to the north. However, a Red counterattack forced the Americans to give up two hills southeast of Waegwan, it said. Waeg-

Firestone Strikers Returning to Work

The "back-to-work" movement at Firestone Tire and Rubber company's Pottstown plant snowballed yesterday toward resumption of full production and an end to the "wildcat" walkout, a company spokesman reported.

He said that increased numbers of men were reporting for each shift.

"The resin plant came back in force," he asserted. The resin plant was the first to be hit by the sporadic walkouts the past week. He also said that enough tire-room workers have returned to push production past the 50 percent mark.

The walkout, termed unauthorized by Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO), started after six men, including two in the resin plant, were given six-day suspensions for leading two earlier "wildcat" walkouts.

These two walkouts were in protest of piece-work and production rates, which management has offered to arbitrate as provided for in the contract.

Five-Cent Hamburger To Make Brief Return

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 13 (AP) — Remember the five cent hamburger?

It's coming back to Ogden — for a one day stand.

Carl M. Lancaster founded a chain of hamburger stands Sept. 16, 1937. Come Saturday he plans to celebrate the anniversary — using the same price list he posted in 1937.

For example, hamburgers, complete with pickles, onions, five cents; ham and egg sandwich, 15 cents; hot cakes and coffee, 15 cents; small T bone steaks, 35 cents.

It's all on a first come, first served basis.

Reds Label Acheson 'A Wolf in Lambskin'

HONG KONG, Wednesday, Sept. 14 (AP) — The Chinese Communist radio today called U. S. Secretary of State Acheson "a wolf in lambskin."

The Peiping broadcast, monitored here, was in reply to a statement made by Acheson.

The Red broadcast again followed the Communist propaganda line, asserting the United States was attempting to colonize Asia.

Replying to Acheson's statement that the U. S. always has been a true friend of the Chinese people, the Peiping radio said:

"A true friend would not have sent his fleet to Chinese territorial waters and tried to neutralize one of China's islands."

Minute Men Elect J. B. Hartenstine Jr. As New Chairman

John B. Hartenstine Jr., West High street oil dealer, was elected chairman of the Pottstown Minute Men yesterday, succeeding Dr. Harry J. Marcy Jr.

J. B. Hartenstine

Other officers elected during a noon meeting at the Howard Johnson restaurant were Arthur K. Switzer, vice chairman, and John F. Stamm, treasurer. Stamm has been treasurer since the organization was formed in 1936.

The new officers will be sworn in for one-year terms at the Sept. 27 meeting.

He attended borough public schools until he was 17, when he left to go to work at a service station.

On April 13, 1934, he went into business for himself, starting as a retailer of Socony-Vacuum products.

Two months later he became a wholesaler for the company and since then he expanded until he has 15 outlets in a 10-mile radius around Pottstown.

Hartenstine is married to the former Flora Yerger Kirkhoff. They are the parents of Johnny, 10, and Sandy, six.

Poland Protests to U. S. On Batory Treatment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Poland protested to the United States today that American authorities are "discriminating" against the Polish liner Batory in New York harbor.

Polish Ambassador Jozef Winiewicz complained at the State department that the liner's crew is not permitted ashore and is exposed to "chicanery" (trickery) when questioned by U.S. immigration authorities.

He said visitors are barred from the ship and passengers are inconvenienced by special and prolonged Coast Guard inspection.

The Batory is the ship on which Communist Gerhart Eisler fled to Europe last year while out under bond following his conviction of contempt by Congress.

Schools Enrolment Rises to 3514 Here

Enrolment in Pottstown public schools has increased from 3469 on opening day, Sept. 6, to 3514 this week, it was reported yesterday from the administration building.

Figures for both the opening day and for one week later were above those of 1949. The past year, 3388 boys and girls showed up when school started and 3435 were on hand shortly afterward.

At the Senior High school, the anticipated increased enrolment did not materialize. There are only 674 students there this week, compared to 728 in 1949.

In the Junior High school, where enrolment was 966 in 1949, and 995 a week ago, there are now 1036 students.

Elementary schools also have shown an increase this year, with 1804 boys and girls, compared to 1741 in 1949.

The Lincoln elementary school recorded the biggest jump, from 336 to 431. When the Franklin school is completed, however, North End youngsters will be transferred there from Lincoln.

More Schedule Plans Requested by Griffith

Burgess William A. Griffith said last night he would wait to receive more suggestions for revising the police schedule before considering the one offered by Councilman Earl R. Strange Monday night.

"I want to give others a chance to make their suggestions," the burgess explained.

He pointed out that he had asked generally for suggestions, after the schedule he posted in the borough hall police headquarters on Sept. 1 came in for criticism from members of the force and councilmen, and that he wanted to look over as many as possible.

Griffith added, though, that he would wait "not more than a week" for ideas to come in.

At Monday night's council meeting, Strange, chairman of the police committee, gave the burgess his alternate plan.

It would put the 21 available men on three eight-hour shifts and rotate them every two weeks. Strange said his schedule gave no one preference of any kind for seniority.

• • •

HE POINTED out that the police pay system makes salary raises possible for years of service, and that this type of reward for seniority was what the police officers preferred.

The system worked out by Griffith and Chief James A. Laughead went into effect Sept. 4. It called for most men on the force to spend ten weeks working nights before working two weeks during the day, and gave a few men permanent day shift.

These two features so embittered men on the force that several councilmen called it to Griffith's attention at a subsequent police committee meeting.

In addition, the schedule left most of the borough without foot patrolmen protection late at night and during the early morning hours.

Griffith admitted this later, but pointed out that more men were needed in the department and insisting that he and the chief had done the best possible.

• • •

HE SAID THEN, and repeated later, that he was "open to suggestions" for changes, welcoming them

Waters Named to Direct County GOP Campaign

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 13 — Responsibility for directing the Republican party campaign in Montgomery county for the general election in November was placed in the hands of Attorney Thomas E. Waters today by State Senator Lloyd H. Wood.

In a letter to Attorney Waters, the senator, who is chairman of the county Republican committee, appointed the former assistant district attorney as head of the campaign committee "with full authority to act in my stead."

Attorney Waters, who also directed the Republican campaign for the primary election, accepted immediately.

The campaign opens Saturday afternoon with a county-wide picnic to be held on the farm of Judge Harold G. Knight, near Green Lane. Principal speaker at the affair will be Judge Blair F. Gunther, Republican candidate for the State Superior court.

Rev. Kline to Miss Church Tribute to Him

The 250th anniversary observance of New Hanover Lutheran church will close Sunday with a tribute to the Rev. Dr. J. J. Kline, pastor emeritus, as the venerable minister observes his 94th birthday anniversary.

But Dr. Kline will not be there. It will be the first major event in the history of the church that he has missed since he first took charge of the small Swamp congregation in 1886.

The minister who fought his way through the growing drifts of the blizzard of 1888 to preach to his people has been bedded by illness.

A familiar figure at the Great Swamp picnic, the general meetings of the Lutheran synod and every festive and memorial observance at the church, the aged minister had looked forward eagerly to the 250th anniversary celebration.

Until his failing health prohibited his participation, he took an active part in the plans for the affair.

• • •

UNDER A PHYSICIAN'S care for many months, however, he has been unable to attend any of the services commemorating the anniversary.

Through the efforts of the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, present pastor, who visits him almost daily at his 220 Chestnut street home, the Rev. Kline has vicariously celebrated the event. He has improved imperceptibly during the course of the observance.

Overcome by emotion, he wept softly when he saw a copy of the anniversary brochure which a grateful congregation had dedicated to him for his many years of service.

Dr. Kline was born in Rehrersburg and was a son of the late Jacob E. and Catharine (Zartman) Kline. His father was an organist and teacher in the community for many years.

Shortly after his birth the family moved to Lebanon county where Dr. Kline received his first schooling. He later attended Palatinate college, Myerstown, where he received his preparatory training.

HE ENTERED the sophomore class at Muhlenberg college in 1880 and was graduated in 1883. In the

Contempt Citations Are Sought Against Probe-Stubborn Trio

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Senate foreign relations committee asked today for contempt of Congress action against Earl Browder, Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Philip Jaffe, who refused to answer questions in the committee's Communist inquiry.

The proposal, originally made by the subcommittee which investigated charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) of Red infiltration in the State department, goes to the Senate. If that body approves, the citation will be referred to the U. S. district attorney here for prosecution. Conviction carries a penalty of a year in jail plus a fine.

Neither Browder, one time leader of U. S. Communists, nor the other witnesses could be reached immediately for comment.

Committee action against the three voted 9 to 0, came as Senator McCarran (D-Nev) predicted that public opinion will force President Truman to sign his catch-all anti-Communist bill.

That measure was passed by the Senate yesterday, 70 to 7. Mr. Truman has said he would not sign the original McCarran bill and the major change in that measure as it went through the Senate was addition of a section to put Communists in internment camps in case of war, invasion or insurrection.

McCarran in a statement repeated a previous argument that a veto "might result in the election of a Republican Congress in November."

* * *

HE ADDED:

"The country wants strict controls now—not next year. The votes in the Senate and House reflect this sentiment."

McCarran predicted that the President will sign "because American public opinion won't let him do otherwise."

Senate action sent the McCarran bill to the House which already has passed a bill containing many simliar provisions, including a requirement that all Communist party members and all Red front groups, but not the fronts' individual members, register with the attorney general. The House version does not include the internment feature.

McCarran said he expects a meeting tomorrow morning between conferees of the House and Senate to work out agreement on the two measures.

"I see no reason why we cannot reach an agreement by tomorrow evening and send the conference report to both houses on Friday for passage," McCarran said.

* * *

PRINCIPAL FEATURES of the McCarran measure, in addition to the registration and concentration camps sections, provide criminal penalties for any effort to promote a foreign dominated totalitarian government here, make it a crime for government employes to give out or others to receive security secrets without authorization, deny government jobs to Communists, tighten espionage and subversion laws by extending from three to ten years the time for starting prosecutions, and set up stricter rules to bar or eject subversive aliens from this country.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the foreign relations committee, expressing hope for action on the contempt citations before Congress quits, told reporters:

"It won't take but a moment. Nobody I know of is against it except Earl Browder and he is not here."

DRIVER STRIKE CANCELED

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Your children will be happier, more accomplished if music is part of their educational training.

If in doubt as to John's or Mary's aptitude, let us give a musical test to determine the instrument, if any, for which they are best suited. There is no obligation.

As a further aid in getting the children on the way to musical knowledge, we are offering a plan whereby you can

Big Three Primed to Undertake Review Of Far East Policy in Attempt at Accord

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP) — A sweeping review of Far Eastern policies, including the divisive issue of relations with Red China, is now set for the Big Three foreign ministers meeting here in the next day or so.

European problems of defense and German rearmament are taking so much time that the ministers have had to move back their schedule and Asian questions for today at least were put aside. Secretary of State Acheson, however, has brought in a staff of experts and advisers headed by Assistant Secretary Dean Rusk and including authorities on Northeast Asia, China-Formosa and Southeast Asia.

The British-French-American attack on Far Eastern problems will not be aimed so much at producing agreement as it will be at preventing the Russians from making present disagreement worse.

The British recognize Communist China and the United States firmly refuses to do so. That is the greatest single difference in their policies.

Nevertheless, information now available from responsible diplomats strongly indicates that British Foreign Minister Bevin will go along with the present American policy of neutralizing Formosa which is not only a part of the international dispute over China but also a domestic political hot potato for Acheson.

* * *

FRENCH INTEREST in the Far East centers on Indochina and Acheson's main effort there will be to urge Foreign Minister Schuman to speed the process of developing Indochinese forces to stand against the native Communist troops of Ho Chi Minh.

Among American and foreign diplomats alike, interest in foreign policy questions has been sharpened by President Truman's selection of Gen. George C. Marshall, former secretary of State, as the next secretary of Defense. In that position he will sit equally with Secretary of State Acheson on the policy shaping National Security council of which President Truman is chairman and which normally meets every Thursday in Washington.

Marshall, like Johnson before him, will thus have an important and in some instances perhaps decisive voice on major foreign questions.

The general conclusion which American authorities here draw from his appointment in relation to the highly controversial China-Formosa policy is that it will have the effect of confirming and strengthening Acheson's and Truman's policy lines in contrast with the weakening effect of Johnson's apparently frequent opposition to Acheson.

* * *

IT WAS WHILE Marshall was Secretary of State that the United States first undertook to disengage itself from support of Chiang Kai-shek, although Acheson inherited the job of finally writing off Chiang in the China white paper of a year ago. Chiang thus lost his strongest suporter and the "save Formosa" movement its most vigorous crusader in high government quarters when Johnson submitted his resignation.

That does not mean an overturn in United States policy, however, because the policy line followed was laid out in spite of Johnson in most cases and not because of him. That line calls for keeping Formosa neutralized so long as the Korean war goes on—this being necessary to protect the left flank of the United Nations forces—and then to seek a United Nations disposition of Formosa's future rather than a single-handed United States disposition.

Meanwhile the United States is giving Chiang limited military assistance for the express purpose of keeping him strong enough to overcome the Chinese Communist assault with the aid of the American Seventh fleet.

Acheson and the President have both been careful to avoid giving the appearance that they support Chiang as full-fledged allies. Marshall, as Defense secretary, therefore in the opinion of State department officials, will not be asked to carry out a policy of close cooperation with the Chinese leader of whom he once washed his hands.

Pope Holds Audience For 70,000 Pilgrims

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 13 (AP)—Pope Pius XII held a general audience today for 70,000 Holy Year pilgrims. Since only about 45,000 could find room inside St. Peter's basilica, the world's largest church, the pontiff appeared on the steps overlooking the great square to greet the remainder.

Among the pilgrims were a group of Catholic war veterans from New York and a pilgrimage from the diocese of Winona, Minn.

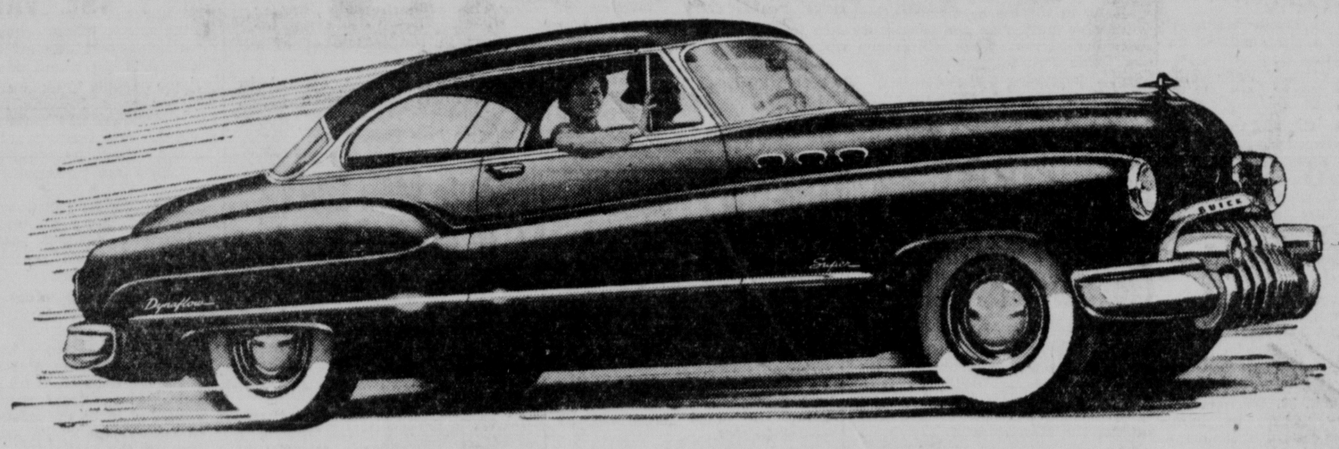
Looking for a Money Saver?

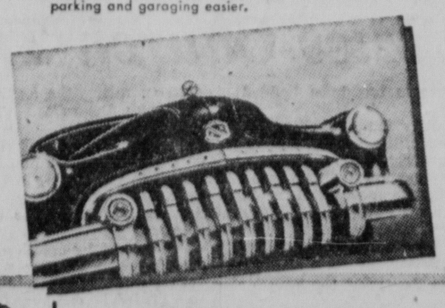


Better Buy Buick!

YOU CAN SEE here how smart it is —don't have to be told that it's the most quickly identified car on the road today.

You probably know that the engine under that broad bonnet is a Fireball straight-eight valve-in-head engine and a lively stepper in any company.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT— This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.



You can check the abundance of its room by the simple expedient of taking the family and trying out its spaciousness at the nearest Buick dealer's—and a very few minutes on the open road will satisfy you that all-coil springing, low-pressure tires and Buick's torque-tube drive really do produce a ride that is matchless for its soft comfort.

BUT RIGHT NOW, it may be that the money angle is the thing uppermost in your mind, and on that we'd like to make two points:

All our records go to show that this is the most economical Buick ever built. It is easy on gas, on oil, on tires, on upkeep.

And if you choose it with Dynaflow Drive,* it immediately eliminates all chance of friction-clutch repair and replacement—not to mention greatly reducing rear-axle and transmission maintenance.

Best of all, your initial outlay is a highly favorable one—whatever Buick you buy. For these brawny straight-eights—built rugged and solid for durable service—are priced at a level that makes them a standout buy in any price class.

Yes, better buy a Buick. Your dealer will be glad to demonstrate, glad to work out all the arithmetic of a deal. See him right away and get an order signed.

Even Charity Costs

THE HIGH cost of living has the Pottstown housewife worried. She frowns over the soaring prices of food, the increasing prices of her children's clothes and shoes.

She's not the only person worried about soaring costs. The merchant furrows his brow, too, because he knows high prices get under the buyer's skin. The manufacturer grouses because the middleman yelps about the price.

Now the high cost of charity causes some raising of surprised eyebrows.

The Pottstown Community Chest has found it necessary to raise its goal to $98,000 when it goes out for contributions Oct. 24 to Nov. 10.

That $98,000 goal is quite a jump over the $55,000 quota of the Pottstown group's first campaign only 19 years ago —in 1931. It's almost 80 percent greater—which is about the way the cost of living has risen!

It costs a lot more to maintain beds in hospitals, it costs a lot more to provide coal and milk to destitute families at present prices. Hence the Community Chest has to raise its sights on the higher target—if the underpriviliged are to be taken care of.

Subscribers are sure to understand. They will understand, too, they'll have to dig a little deeper to help out in the time of need.

For Peace at Firestone

POTTSTOWN again is witnessing, with doleful eyes, the "wildcat" strike at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

Curtailment of production, at a time when the United States armed forces are pleading for tires, comes at a most unauspicious time.

The walkout, unauthorized and uncondoned by the United Rubber Workers union, is most embarrassing. Despite union leaders' pleadings, the men refuse to go back to work so that the issue might be arbitrated.

The workers probably have their grievances. The management also has its squawks. No desire has this corner to air those differences or to try to say who's right or wrong.

But from this angle, it looks like the walkout again was engineered by out-of-town workers. No Pottstonians seemed to have been involved in the early walkout.

* * *

So that brings to mind an old cry here: It's the Firestone worker who commutes to Pottstown, who takes his dollars out of Pottstown, who is the most recalcitrant.

Why not make him a Pottstonian, then?

The tiremaker who commutes 100 miles a day, through ice and rain and sleet, sometimes figures he has a couple of days coming to him. So he takes off.

He has no interest in the plant, the community, or a local church or lodge. He's not worried over whether or not his neighbor loses time and dollars.

In fact, he isn't so sure that Firestone is a permanent place of employment for him. If he loses out here, he can get a job anywhere, he says. He has no roots in Pottstown.

Why not make him a Pottstonian?

Why not bring him here to live, to make him a part of the community? Why not assure him that his job at Firestone is his as long as he wants it? Why not tell him Firestone is here to stay? it's not going to move that billion dollar plant overnight!

Why not make him a big local man, make him feel that he's a part of Firestone, a part of the great war effort?

HOW?

Build him a home here. Bring him here to get his feet on the ground, his children in our fine public schools, our noble churches. Make him a member of the local clubs, imbue him with civic pride.

There'll be less labor trouble then, we feel.

'New Look' in Hats

GLANCING idly through the paper, we noted that there will be a "new look" this fall in men's hats. Further reading reassured male conservatism. The new look, it seems, will involve at most hat brims an eighth of an inch narrower. This will hardly let in another drop of rain!

On sober second thought we remembered that a lot of younger Americans are going to have a very new look indeed in headgear. In fact they will be wearing no brim at all. Uncle Sam's military forces dropped the campaign hat in favor of the cap quite a few years ago.

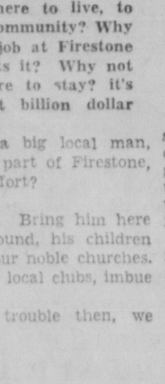
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, with so many football games scheduled to be televised this Autumn, it won't be long before the plunging neckline will be in danger of being eclipsed by the plunging fullback!



The weather bureau predicts a mild Winter. Maybe the weatherman really will love us in December as he did in May!

And say: Nature has its compensations. Even a receding chin comes in handy—when the business at hand is eating corn-on-the-cob!

Township Pupils Walked Once—Why Not Now?

Exercise Won't Hurt

To the Editor: For eight years I attended school in Upper Frederick township and for eight years walked at least a mile—night and morning, rain or shine—to school.

Fortunately for me, on days when the weather was unfit, my parents or parents of neighbor children took us there.

I agree not all parents can take time or are able to transport their children to school, but four years ago many kids walked every day, regardless of the weather or distance, and now they are all grown and are as healthy as anyone.

Okay, let the township have two station wagons pick up each pupil at his home five minutes before school begins and bring him home immediately after classes.

But while Mrs. Czapkewiez's "kids" are taking a trip to school the expenses of the school system will be taking a trip to the moon.

Possibly not all taxpayers in the township would be as eager to hand over more tax money as would Mrs. Czapkewiez (or would she?).

Remember, the kids of today are made of the same stuff as they were four years ago or even 10, 20 or 50. A little exercise didn't hurt them then and I don't think it would now.

Grand Jury to the Rescue

To the Editor: As a citizen who is interested in seeing justice done to all, I would like to commend the Montgomery county grand jury for its excellent judgment in dismissing the murder charge against Mrs. Ruth Young.

I can't say the same for Chief Laughead of the Pottstown police who, despite little apparent evidence, persisted in forcing a murder charge against this woman.

The criminal cases that come into the public eye through the large headlines in the press seem to be the only ones the chief of police is intrested in. Then he appears satisfied with nothing less than blood.

The everyday infractions of the law—the ones that affect the lives of everyone in the Pottstown community—the chief chooses to ignore.

Laws were made to protect the rights of the accused as well as the accuser. This is overlooked by the police administration.

Many persons are still smarting, from the miscarriage of justice in the Wentzel murder case. It is fortunate that the grand jury prevented a repetition of this in the case of Mrs. Young.

Sanatoga INTERESTED

Discourteous Drivers

To the Editor: The gripes you voice in your editorial, "Pottstown Street Scenes," about impolite drivers tallies perfectly with my often-expressed opinion: That Pottstown drivers show less courtesy, in general, than any anywhere.

A short time ago I had a bitter argument with a truck driver who had parked his vehicle on narrow, one-way Penn street. It wasn't parked off to one side to permit other cars to pass. No, sir! Right in the middle it was!

This man insisted that, because he was transacting business he had the perfect right to park there and block all traffic.

There also is the practice of milk and bakery truck drivers of stopping on the left side of the street, nearest the houses to which they are delivering.

Besides being dangerous, specially early in the morning, it forces a person in an oncoming car to go into the opposite traffic lane to pass. Once this is done, the blame for any accident is on the other fellow.

I am sure these people know better. They simply lack courtesy for the other person who perhaps has just as much business to do and as little time to do it in.

Improvement Note

To the Editor: I have noticed unusual activity among our policemen on High street recently.

One incident I saw was a policeman arresting a driver Sunday afternoon for going through a red light.

If this is what happens when the police department gets two more sergeants, it should have had them months and months ago.

WASHINGTON

Dewey's Political Hopes Not Tied to Presidency

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 — Although Governor Thomas E. Dewey's decision to seek re-election has heartened Republican leaders at headquarters and on Capitol Hill, they do not believe that he will make himself eligible for a 1952 presidential nomination, even if he defeats the Truman - Flynn - Lynch forces in the November election.

The obvious reasons are, of course, that "he has had two chances already." Many are still rankling over the kind of campaign he conducted two years ago, when they entertained such high expectations of a GOP return to the promised land around the White House. Among these are at least 50 percent of the Republican national committee, who still insist that an all-out attack on the "fair deal" is their only strategy.

* * *

OPPOSITION: But Mr. Dewey's opponents raise even more practical explanations and objections. In 1944 and 1948, they point out, he was the front-runner when the convention opened. He had a definite appeal to delegates and political bosses who like to ride with a winner.

He will not enjoy this advantage two years hence, assuming that he is then Governor of New York. Instead of entering the convention maneuvering with 300 to 400 delegates in scattered strength, he will be lucky to have New York's full ninety-odd.

He will have sterner opposition from men like Gov. James H. Duff, of Pennsylvania, if Duff wins the Senate race next Fall, and from Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, of New Jersey. "Bob" Taft will be making his last, desperate play for the honor. Gov. Earl Warren, of California, may also try again. The anti-Dewey will be far more formidable than the pro-Dewey faction.

* * *

OIL: In view of the criticism that has accompanied the Truman-Flynn-O'Dwyer, politico-diplomatic coup, President Truman has greased the path for our new Ambassador to Mexico so that he will be hailed as an outstanding success before the November elections.

Although it has denied Mexico City's application for a $50,000,000 oil loan for more than a year, the Export-Import Bank has been "persuaded" to advance three times the refused sum. It had been understood that influential New York groups interested in petroleum had previously blocked any financial help. They don't want Mexican competition.

The E-I's money will not be used specifically for expansion or development of oil. But it will enable the Mexican government-controlled monopoly to obtain needed funds, for the Aleman regime will be in a financial position to provide it as a result of our loan.

In addition, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development has granted a $26,000,000 loan for light and power.

So, when and if Gov. Thomas E. Dewey denounces the O'Dwyer appointment as "political skulduggery," he will be met with Mexican acclaims of the Senor from Brooklyn.

* * *

GALL: As a born salesman, Federal Reserve Chairman Thomas B. McCabe likes to get along with people without friction.

But there are signs that the Union League Republican from Chester, Pa., derives considerable satisfaction over his violent break with Treasury Secretary Snyder on the question of managing federal finances and money in general. Several months ago, a newspaper friend asked Mr. McCabe:

"When are you going to take open market action that will be necessary to stop inflation and also get you demoted by Truman from your chairmanship?"

"I have heard rumors about that demotion," replied the 'Fed' head. "But I am convinced that members of the open market committee are sick of being pushed around by Mr. Snyder. They will eventually, if inflation gets worse, do what they think is necessary, no matter what the Treasury does."

"Aw, you're such a suave and nice guy that I doubt if you have the courage."

"If you'll check back into my operations in private business," smiled the white-haired industrialist, "you'll find that they think I have too much gall."

He has since proved that he has enough.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

LLOYD G., 47, is a department store executive.

"Dr. Crane, he is losing friends rapidly," a friend of Lloyd's informed me, "because he constantly tries to put everybody on the defensive.

"If you are to meet him for luncheon, the first words he says to you are, 'Why are you ten minutes late?'

"If you call him on the phone, he begins by demanding why you failed to give him a ring the day before, as you apparently were supposed to do.

"He is also constantly belittling people, whether with justification or not, until they don't like to see him any more.

"What is wrong with a man who chronically opens every conversation with some accusation or criticism for putting his associates on the defensive?"

* * *

THIS IS A COMMON trait of many persons, including husbands and wives, as well as business executives like Lloyd.

Lloyd tries to divert attention from himself by what might aptly be termed the "St. Paul Strategy."

Some of you Bible scholars may recall that after Paul was taken captive, he was brought before the chief priests and the Jewish council, who were ready to accuse him to the death.

But he soon perceived that there were two rival factions present; namely, the Sadducees and the Pharisees.

Knowing that these two groups differed radically with reference to a resurrection after death, Paul neatly threw them into an uproar of debate by exclaiming, ". . . of the hope and resurrection of the dead am I called in question."

Lloyd is likewise avoiding a possible attack upon himself by launching a vigorous offense first and thus pointing out other peoples' flaws, even before they can start investigating his own personality.

But why should he be so diligent in trying to belittle other people before they might criticize him? For this policy inevitably makes a man friendless and hated.

Lloyd himself is a guilty man, and deserving of censure. So he has subconsciously hit upon his hypercritical policy as a means of diverting attention and suspicion from himself.

He is maintaining a paramour in an expensive Chicago apartment, so he is afraid of exposure and censure.

Being sensitive, therefore, to the constant possibility of exposure, he projects this chronic criticism upon all those whom he meets, and blames them for tardiness of but a few minutes or any other peccadillo.

The old adage that it 'akes a thief to catch a thief, is very appropriate in such cases.

People like Lloyd may not always have paramours but they usually have other feelings of guilt or inferiority which make them try to batter down the virtue of their associates.

Don't become emotionally upset, therefore, or angrily jump to your own defense when such a person criticizes you, but shrug off the attack and ask "Of what is this man himself so guilty that he accuses everybody else he meets?"

Daughter Succeeds Mother Cops Are Flustered...

★ MOTHER - DAUGHTER SWITCH — Mrs. Susie Mariano, 142 Walnut street, daytime switchboard operator at Memorial hospital for the past two years, now is admittance clerk there, succeeding Mrs. Helen Reifsnyder, formerly of 1313 Queen street, who left to take a position in a dentist's office in Washington, D. C. Susie's daughter, Esther, now is at the switchboard, being briefed on the job by Mrs. Georgia S. Reed, 110 Elm street, Stowe, another admittance-desk worker. . . . FLAG REPORT—Pottstown borough hall finally got Old Glory half-staffed in respect to the 33 Pennsylvania soldiers killed in the Ohio railroad accidents, but it took the postoffice a little longer. Patrons yesterday morning complained about failure of Federal employes to hearken to Governor James Duff's request. Excuse: Postmaster Maurice Sassaman was on his vacation. But working employes relented and by afternoon the flag was half-staff.

The boys enlisted together and passed their physicals in Philadelphia on Monday. they signed up for four years. Belman is a graduate of the North Coventry High school and Eck was a student at the Pottstown Junior High school until he left to go to work.

★ POLICEMAN'S LOT ETC. — Borough police have been troubled recently by calls about a man allegedly beating his wife noisily. Complaining neighbors won't swear out a warrant, and police can't swear out one themselves until they hear some action. Patrol cars have been sent down, but by the time they arrived, all was quiet in the disputants' home. As one policeman put it, "I guess all we can do is go up to the front door and tell the man: 'Please don't beat your wife so hard. She's making too much noise.'" . . . While Governor Duff's tribute to Pennsylvania's soldiers did not include a request that ALL flags be half-staffed (only those on State, borough, county and Federal buildings), the Pottstown Eagles were among the first locally to half-staff theirs. Many Pottstonians also noted the Eagles flew the United Nations flag the past week.

NEW LUMBER YARD — Earl M. Kerstetter and Anthony L. Veach, building partners who live at 33 and 31 Maplewood drive, respectively, plan to erect a lumber yard along North Hanover street near Prospect street just inside the Upper Pottsgrove line. Carmel several years ago before shifting their operations and homes to Pottstown.

★ KNOW WHAT THEY'RE GETTING— When 21 members of Pottstown Airplane Owners and Pilots association flew down to Wildwood for the fourth annual Eastern Pennsylvania convocation of the group, they found that a branch bank had been set up at the Cape May County airport, where their paper currency was changed to silver dollars. Idea was to show Wildwood merchants just how much the AOPA's presence meant in a business way. Taking their wives along were Charles Weidner, Paul Focht, Paul Mitchell, Fred Reigner, James J. Moore, George A. Longacre, William Weiss and Arnold Watson. Flying solo were Herb Smith, Joe Toth, Alvin Renninger, Amy Spohn and Johnny Tyson.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

FOR almost half a century, doctors have been trying to determine whether or not high blood pressure can be regulated by diet. Despite all of this research, the question still remains unanswered, or the answers given are only partial.

We can definitely say that where high blood pressure is due, in part, to kidney disease, dietary treatment will be beneficial insofar as the kidney condition is concerned, but will not necessarily lower the blood pressure.

The same thing is true where high blood pressure is accompanied by heart failure. The latter condition can be successfully treated by a low salt diet, but this does not mean it will have any effect on the high blood pressure.

Dietary treatment of high blood pressure has been along the lines of diets low in salt or low in proteins, such as meat, milk.

One of the difficulties attached to diets very low in salt is that in high blood pressure, especially with kidney disease, a reduction of salt may lead to kidney failure.

Evidence that protein may have some effect on high blood pressure is contradictory. For example, when 34 healthy young men lived for six months on a diet low in protein, all exhibited a drop in the blood pressure. On the other hand, other investigators found no change in the blood pressure of patients with high blood pressure after ten months of rigorous restriction of protein in the diet.

The so-called rice diet is low in both protein and salt. Some patients have been benefited by such a diet. However, it must be used with great care since kidney failure may occur when it is used.

The one definite reason for dietary restriction in patients with high blood pressure is obesity or overweight. There can be no doubt that a reduction in weight is of definite benefit to the high blood pressure patient. If the patient is a heavy salt-eater, the salt also should be restricted.

There is also some advantage in planing the diet so as to help avoid digestive upsets, because high blood pressure patients are more likely to have ordinary artery disease.

Pennsy Engineer Says 'Spirit of St. Louis' Ran Late as It Ripped Into Troop Train

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad's "Spirit of St. Louis" was running late, going too fast and ran through a stop signal as it ripped into a stalled troop train, its ashen engineer testified today.

William E. Eller, 68-year-old railroad veteran with 48 years' service, was the key witness at an inquiry into the pre-dawn Ohio tragedy that killed 33 Pennsylvania National guardsmen Monday.

The open hearing—conducted by the railroad, the Interstate Commerce commission, the Ohio Public Utility commission and the Army—lasted nearly five hours.

ICC Commissioner W. J. Patterson said at its conclusion:

"When we get the record, a report will be written and made public.

"If it turns out any law was violated that is administered by the commission, then we can take punitive action."

* * *

COL. GEORGE W. HALEY, representing the Department of Army Operation of Railroads, said he also would submit a report.

A parade of witnesses occupied the stand in the dingy hearing room on the ninth floor of the Pennsylvania's ancient terminal and office building.

But none took the spotlight from Eller, a spare, bespectacled graying man who has been under a doctor's care since the crash.

The engineer, described by his fireman as one of the "most alert and capable men in railroad service," spoke in low monotones and frequently covered his face with his hands.

He said his New York to St. Louis passenger streamliner left Pittsburgh 29 minutes late and lost another minute enroute. He said he reduced his speed, but "not enough" at the first signal approach block before the stalled train near Coshocton, Ohio.

Railroad regulations require that speed be reduced to 30 miles an hour at an approach block preparatory to coming to a complete halt at the next stop and proceed sign.

Eller said he "guessed" he was going 50 miles an hour at the time.

Circus Day Tickets On Sale Now Will Benefit Local Boys

Pottstown's Circus Day is drawing near.

Elwood Angstadt, Optimist club circus chairman, pointed out yesterday that the boy's work fund, for which the Optimist club is raising money by sponsoring the circus, benefits chiefly from advance ticket sales.

The Optimists will bring the mid-century edition of Mills Brothers three ring circus to Mill park for two performances, one day only, tomorrow. Members of the sponsoring group have advance tickets on sale now.

Among the projects supported by the Optimist club are Boy's Week, an annual affair when the boys of the community take over the city government; entertaining sick children in hospitals and homes, Boy of the Month, a Boy Scout troop, taking children to Philadelphia ball games, donating towards a scholarship fund along with other civic clubs of the community and supporting many youth clubs.

"To give the utmost help to our fund, we urge patrons not to wait and obtain tickets on Circus Day, for, whereas, 50 percent of adult ticket proceeds now go towards the boy's work fund, only 10 percent of show day sales apply locally," Angstadt said. There is no advance in price for tickets obtained now.

Besides this fund, in co-operation with business houses and individual "Circus Daddies," the local group is making it possible for many underprivileged children from this area to attend the matinee performance as guests.

Tickets are being distributed through Capt. Meral Cox, of the Salvation Army, and will include children from Pennhurst and many crippled children from Pottstown.

* * *

THE OPTIMIST club spokesman said, "We want to see to it that every child who otherwise could not afford to attend a major three ring circus this year gets a chance to see the Optimist club circus. On behalf of our organization and on behalf of the hundreds of youngsters who will be taken to the circus, we want to thank all who have cooperated in this phase of the campaign."

Mills Brothers, the world's largest motorized circus, is celebrating its 11th annual national tour.

The circus carries a menagerie and animals including a troupe of performing elephants, trained dogs and riding monkeys. There also are aerialists, daring riders, trampoline and high pole experts, a cavalcade of clowns, wire walkers and other circusdom's favorites.

Synagog Services Close Rosh Hashanah Holiday

The two-day observance of Rosh Hashanah—the 5711th Jewish New Year — drew to a close last night with evening services at the Congregation Mercy and Truth synagog.

One of the most important holidays in the Jewish year, its observance was marked by five-hour services in the synagog each morning. An average of 450 persons attended the services, Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi, reported.

Members of the congregation assisted in filling the place of the Rev. H. G. Blatt, cantor, who fractured his ankle the past Sunday.

Mobile X-Ray Unit to Be Brought Here For Detection of Tuberculosis Symptoms

Mobile X-ray units for the detection of tuberculosis symptoms will come to Pottstown for four days next month, Dr. Stanley M. Nowacki last night.

Final plans for the appearance were worked out at a meeting yesterday by William D. Mower, junior high school principal, Leona V. Smith, executive secretary of the Visiting Nurse association, and Nowacki.

Ninth grade pupils, athletes and teachers in Pottstown junior high school will be X-rayed Monday, Oct. 2. Workers in the Stanley G. Flagg plant in Stowe will be examined Wednesday, Oct. 4.

A community X-ray examination for everybody will take place in the YMCA on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 5 nd 6, Nowacki said. Hours will be from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

A charge of one dollar, the bare cost of materials, will be made in the Flagg and community projects for each X-ray. The charge of the junior high school X-rays will be only 50 cents with the difference to be made up from funds realized from the sale of Christmas seals.

It was pointed out, however, that those unable to pay this fee would have their entire fee paid for from the Christmas seal fund.

Penmanship Method Outlined for Teachers In Grade Schools

Pottstown elementary school teachers received their first instruction in a new penmanship course yesterday afternoon during a meeting in the Washington school building.

Mrs. A. E. Goodman, of Harrisburg, made her first monthly visit to the teachers. She is a representative of the Peterson penmanship system, used in Pottstown schools beginning this term at the suggestion of the superintendent, Dr. George A. McCormick.

She spent half an hour with First and Second grade teachers, who teach penmanship in manuscript, or printed form, and an hour with the Fourth through Sixth grade instructors, who teach cursive, or connected writing.

Mrs. Goodman outlined the system for the teachers and distributed instructional material, including pupils' workbooks.

Dr. McCormick said Mrs. Goodman would come to Pottstown each month to discuss the penmanship system with the elementary school teachers.

The major change between this system and the one formerly used here was that the Peterson system provides an outside representative to assist the teachers.

Both Dr. McCormick and Havard E. Fosnocht, principal of the elementary schools, attended the meeting with Mrs. Goodman.

Senate Group Okays O'Dwyer as New Mexico Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — William O'Dwyer, who resigned as mayor of New York to accept nomination as ambassador to Mexico, got an 8 to 0 endorsement today from the Senate foreign relations committee.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) voted "present."

The Iowan had taken up the greater part of the committee's sessions yesterday and today questioning O'Dwyer about his record as Brooklyn district attorney before he became mayor.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) told reporters that Hickenlooper's inquiries today related principally to a gangster murder case, and whether there had been "neglect" in its prosecution. Connally quoted O'Dwyer as explaining that there was no immediate arrest because the main witness could not be found. Later the witness died, Connally said. He added that O'Dwyer told the committee he was in the Army at the time and hence no longer responsible for the prosecution.

Connally said Hickenlooper lost in a move to have the committee get all the grand jury records in the case. The chairman said all committeemen except Hickenlooper were "satisfied" after hearing O'Dwyer's account.

* * *

O'DWYER, RELEASED from the stand, left the capitol before the committee took its vote. He told a reporter he was heading for California later in the day to resume a vacation interrupted by the request for his appearance before the committee.

There have been some private grumblings in the State department over the O'Dwyer selection because the former mayor and one-time policeman replaces Walter Thurston, a career diplomat who has yet to be given another assignment.

Connally planned to ask quick Senate confirmation of the O'Dwyer nomination, along with a number of other diplomatic appointments which the committee approved.

Plan Coast Democratic Fight

S. Senate. Mrs. Roosevelt will speak on behalf of both candidates.

Stowe Man Signs to Enter Army for Second Hitch

William Migala, 23, of Grosstown road, Stowe, has applied for reenlistment in the infantry, it was announced yesterday by M/Sgt. Paul P. Peiffer of the Pottstown Army-Air Force recruiting office.

Migala served previously with both the Army and the Air Force as a dental assistant from June, 1946 until June, 1949.

His second enlistment also is for three years.

Scout Court of Honor Will Be Held Tonight

A number of scouts who passed the requirements for merit badges at camp are expected to seek official reviews, while several scouts have qualified for advanced rank.

John Leininger will be chairman of the session, assisted by Harold LeBaron and J. Russell Geiger Sr.

Danish Socialist Leader Fails in Coalition Attempt

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Sept. 13 (AP) — Socialist Premier Hans Hedtoft failed today to get Liberal and Agrarian party leaders to join him in a strong coalition government.

Day-long negotiations, inspired by King Frederik's orders this morning that Hedtoft try to form a "government on a broader basis," ended in deadlock. The King then called on Hedtoft to continue the Socialist minority government he has headed.

Pageant Depicting Life of Congregation Set at New Hanover

"Mark Her Bulwarks," a pageant depicting the life of the congregation of the Evangelical Lutheran church at New Hanover, will be presented tonight at 8 o'clock at the church.

The 75-minute pageant is part of the church's 250th anniversary celebration which will end on Sunday afternoon.

About 80 persons will appear in the production which is under the direction of the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, church pastor, and Miss Thelma Richards, of Pottstown. Narrator will be Miss Clara Plonk, of New York city.

The show is to be given in 11 scenes with a grand finale. Included are the following:

Early Settlers, Daniel Falckner Arrives, Indian Trouble, the Muhlenberg Era, First Sermon in America, the Church as School, the Church as Hospital, Modes of Transportation, Soldiers of the Wars, the Great Swamp Picnic, and Christmas.

The grand finale wil feature the entire cast.

The pageant is the remaining activity of the observance for the public until Sunday when the celebration will be climaxed by a communion service in the morning at 10:15 o'clock, and an afternoon homecoming service at 3:15 o'clock.

During the afternoon program the speaker will be Dr. Charles B. Foelsch, pastor of Holy Trinity church, New York city.

All congregations associated with the parent church in its long history are expected to be represented at the homecoming.

Area Residents Named On Rackets Probe Jury

Two Pottstown area residents were named yesterday as prospective members of a Federal grand jury which will make a full investigation of rackets in Philadelphia and nine Eastern Pennsylvania counties.

They are Leonard Hatfield, 420 Beech street, and Mrs. S. Eva Hess, Collegeville.

Both were subpoenaed by Federal law enforcement officers and will appear in court today when the jury is chosen.

The few remaining birds of the once numerous whooping crane flocks winter on the Texas coast.

COMPANY A —

Before leaving, they got a present from Capt. Meral Cox, of the Salvation Army, unofficial company chaplain, and Mrs. Cox. The Coxes filled each soldier's canteen with hot coffee for the long trip through the damp night air.

The guardsmen also received doughnuts, potato chips and chewing gum from the Coxes. Capt. Cox said coffee and sandwiches will be waiting for the men at any hour when they return.

* * *

THE GROUP BOARDED the trucks just across King street from the armory. A semi-interested mixed group of six persons watched the departure from the Odd Fellows hall steps.

From the trucks issued the usual cries of dismay over the lack of elbow room. "More trucks," was the consensus. Now and again there was the fretful lamentation, "But you CAN'T get any more in here" as another guardsman climbed over the tailgate.

Capt. Charles C. Barr and First Sgt. Dallas Wilson did a lion's share of shepherding the group.

As the vehicles pulled out, a familiar expression but odd for guardsmen, broke from one of the trucks. "Shove off coxwain, your boat's loaded," said someone.

When the small convoy had left, a distracted-looking man ran across King street to Capt. Cox.

"I didn't know they were leaving," he panted.

"They'll be back," said the captain, smiling.

Cub Scouts to Attend Camp Delmont Meeting

The pack committee of Cub Scout Pack 53 met in Emmanuel Lutheran church last night, to plan for a cubbing meeting at Camp Delmont Saturday, from noon to 10 p. m.

Those who will attend the meeting will be Mrs. Albert Istenes, in charge of handicraft; Mrs. William Klein, games; Mrs. Robert Richards, ceremonies, William Klein, pack administration; James L. Undercoffler, registration, and Leroy R. Moyer, section leader.

Plans also were made for the pack meeting on Sept. 28.

Moyer was in charge of last night's meeting. The participants in Saturday's meeting were appointed by Undercoffler, cubmaster.

RETIREMENT —

Robins, who is president of the Pottstown school directors.

Robins joined The Hill faculty in 1904 and retired briefly during World War II. He was called back to the school's history department where he now is active.

Another master who retired and went back into harness is Isaac Thomas, 67, former head of the school's Latin department, now an instructor in German. He joined the faculty in 1910.

Two others who will be eligible for retirement within two years are George A. Dawson, head of the Latin department and a Hill master since 1921, and Henry J. Colbath, head of the science department who is in his 40th year of teaching since coming to The Hill in 1910.

Thieves Heavy Labor Yields Exactly Zero

BALTIMORE, Sept. 13 (AP) — Thieves could have saved themselves a lot of trouble at a ready-mix cement plant early today.

They broke in through a window, carried out a 300-pound safe, loaded it in a truck and drove away.

The safe was unlocked, company officials said.

Besides, there was no money in it.

TOTH ARRESTED —

past January.

Both the older Toth and Castrinoes had been the objects of an intensive police manhunt as a result of numerous burglaries in Pottstown, as well as Chester and Montgomery counties.

REV. KLINE —

Fall of that year, he entered the Lutheran Theological seminary, in Philadelphia, and was graduated three years later in June, 1886.

His ordination to the Gospel ministry by the Ministerium of Pennsylvania followed in the same month in Christ church, Easton, and he immediately assumed the pastorate at New Hanover.

Dr. Kline's charge was extended soon after he arrived at the New Hanover Lutheran church when he was asked to fill the pulpit at Christ church, Niantic. It increased still further when he organized the congregation at Trinity Lutheran church, Bechtelsville.

In 1896, he organized the Grace Lutheran congregation in Pottstown and served as its pastor along with the three other churches under his charge.

Slowly, as new ministers came forward, Dr. Kline relinquished his charge of the additional churches. He left the Trinity congregation at Bechtelsville in 1905; the Christ church at Niantic in 1916, and finally, Grace church in 1937.

He continued an unbroken ministry at New Hanover for 60 years until his resignation as pastor in 1945. He was elected pastor emeritus upon his resignation.

New Pastor at Linfield, Shenkel Churches Given Surprise Reception; 125 Present

The Rev. and Mrs. Russell Berger, of Linfield, started out last night on what they thought was a friendly dinner invitation.

But before the night ended, they found themselves feted at a joint reception held by the congregations of Linfield and Shenkel Evangelical Reformed churches in the basement of the latter edifice.

The Rev. Berger was installed on Sunday as pastor for both churches.

In order to keep the reception a complete surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kline, of Shenkel, invited the minister and his wife to dinner. Following that, an automobile ride was suggested so that the pastor might see where some of the congregation live.

* * *

AT SHENKEL CHURCH, where he thought the halt would be only for a few minutes, the minister found 125 people from the two congregations waiting to greet him and Mrs. Berger.

Included on the program of entertainment at which the Rev. Edward Schlingman, of Fernbrook, acted as master of ceremonies, were marimba selections by Joyce Sweinhart and guitar numbers by Richard Goss. Refreshments were served.

The Rev. Berger was ordained in 1945 at Palmerton, and until the past June was pastor of the First Evangelical Reformed church at Bellerose, L. I. His installation on Sunday was conducted by the Rev. James Bright, of Norristown, the president of the Philadelphia synod of the denomination.

The Rev. and Mrs. Berger have two children, Karen Jean, 2, and Sharon Marie, 8 months.

There are more than 2,000 branch factories of United State industries in Canada.

Rehearsals Start Oct. 5 For Recreation Orchestra

For the second consecutive year the orchestra will be directed by Paul S. Hangen Jr.

It will rehearse every Thursday night from 8 to 10 o'clock on the second floor of borough hall, with the emphasis on light and semi-classical selections, as it was the past season.

The first of three concerts scheduled for the 1950-51 season will be given in the Pottstown Senior High school auditorium on Monday night, Dec. 4, Donnon said.

Council Approves Five to Serve on Sewer Authority

D. Kenneth Rothermel, Third ward councilman, submitted five names for approval of the Spring City borough council for service on the proposed sewer authority, at the meeting Monday night in borough hall.

Approved on voice vote were Ambrose Peterman, Claude B. Wagon[illegible] Raymond Williams, Wilfred E. Gil[illegible]ler and A. J. Balch. Terms w[illegible] set at a later date.

Council discussed a number of problems, including the filling in of the canal, the two dumps, fires, and the proposed widening of Main street.

Joseph Gloss and James Haldeman were present, representing the interests of the Keystone Drawn Steel company seeking information as to the filling in of the canal. Gloss stated that the contractor had told him that the canal would be filled in as far as the foot bridge at the Keystone property.

He also requested information as to where the water, that flows under the Keystone building from above Church street, will be sent. Council could not answer any of these questions.

* * *

BURGESS BENJAMIN BERTOLET said he felt the State is trying to get rid of the watershed by throwing the responsibility on the borough or the property owners.

He added that a voluminous amount of water flows off the hills, into the canal proper. Bertolet said the canal first interrupted the natural flow to the river and then the railroad came through and further cut the flow to the river. He [illegible] was of the opinion that [illegible]tion of the watershed [illegible] the State's responsibility.

President Clyde E. Keffer said [illegible] upon recomendation of [illegible] commissioner, he was asking council's permission to set the Cedar street dump afire after cooler weather on a Saturday morning, and have the Liberty Fire company send a truck there to keep the fire in control and extinguish it Sunday afternoon.

D. Kenneth Rothermel said that if the fire was handled as the recent brush burning at the rear of borough hall on the property of the Memorial Park association, he was opposed to it. He said he had had a number of complaints because of the fire, and that whoever was responsible did not use good sense.

* * *

PRESIDENT KEFFER said he personally was responsible for the burning of the brush and if anyone was to take the rap, he would. He asked how many were civic minded enough to take a day off from work to do these jobs.

He said that it was necessary to burn the brush at night for this reason, and that it was under supervision, as provided for in the borough ordinance. Keffer added that because some persons were not in favor of certain civic moves, they opposed them.

Considerable discussion resulted over the proposed burning of the dump, with the proposal that the Gay street dump be burned also. The motion was passed to set fire to the dumps at the proper time with the Liberty Fire company standing by for fire control.

Burgess Bertolet warned that unless the promiscuous dumping at Gay street were stopped he would have the dump policed and violators fined. He said that crates and cartons of garbage were being dumped there consistently.

Harlan McVeigh reported on a meeting held with the district highway engineers on the proposed widening of Main street between New and Bridge streets. He said the engineers would submit an estimate of the probable cost to the borough. The State proposes tearing up the present street and rebuilding it 8 feet wider by placing the curbs back four feet, leaving an 8-foot sidewalk.

McVeigh remarked that the borough responsibility would be replacement of curbs and getting the utilities to move their poles and shutoffs back to the new curb.

* * *

HARRY LEE SAID he felt something should be done with the stagnant pool in the gutter on the North side of borough hall. It was proposed that the street committee have the water sent across Hall street, so that it might flow down the north side of the street and not cause a hazard in the Winter at the Liberty Fire company property.

Street lights problems were discussed and the light committee was asked to report back to the next meeting.

Permission to build or repair homes was granted the following: George Parfit, Joseph Fox, J. Deihl, N. Shoots, Grant Koplin, Lawrence Shaner, William Woodland.

Stop signs were ordered erected on Walnut street, Chestnut and Hall streets at Main street. Also, on Penn at the Yost avenue intersection, and Church street at Yost avenue.

Council decided that all sewer rents unpaid by Oct. 1 shall be turned over to the solicitor. Nine property owners have failed to pay the annual sewer rent.

Tax Collector S. N. Mowrey reported $14,718.15 collected during the past month, leaving $8596.30 outstanding tax. Liens were reported collected amounting to $326.07.

Fines collected amounted to $66, including those for 26 red tickets. Parking meter receipts were $462.47.

The treasurer reported a balance of $2903.32 in the sewer operating fund, and $54,492.15 in all other funds.

Present were: Clyde E. Keffer, Edwin Mull, Carl Hunsberger, D. Kenneth Rothermel, Howard Barclay, Harry Lee and Harlan McVeigh, councilmen. Also, Burgess Benjamin Bertolet, Solicitor D. Clark Sautter, Secretary S. N. Mowrey, Chief of Police John Hanebury, Joseph Gloss and James Haldeman.

Reformed Church To Combine Rally With Dedication

The annual Rally day service of Spring City First Evangelical and Reformed church school has been planned for Sunday morning, Sept. 24, at 9:30 o'clock, to be combined with a special dedication service.

The Church school auditorium, which is undergoing extensive repairs and improvements, will be rededicated.

Dr. John Lentz, Norristown, who just finished a term of office as the vice-president of the Evangelical and Reformed church, will be the principal speaker.

Well known to members of the congregation, Dr. Lentz formerly was college pastor of Ursinus college and supplied the pulpit of the Spring City church following the resignation of the Rev. Raymond E. Wilhelm, who preceded the Rev. Garnet O. Adams as pastor. At present Dr. Lentz is a member of the general council of the denomination and a member of the board of trustees of the seminary at Lancaster.

* * *

SPECIAL MUSIC WILL be provided by several well-known musicians, including Miss Marcella DeCray, Philadelphia, harpist of distinction and member of the Metropolitan Opera association. Miss DeCray, who appeared on Rally day programs of Spring City Reformed church some years ago, has given more than 800 concerts, of which over half were repeat performances.

William Van Horn, Germantown, a student at Ursinus college and a member of the well-known Meistersingers of that school, will be guest soloist.

Instrumental music will be played at the beginning and ending of the service, and for hymns to be sung by a trio composed of the Misses Barbara and Nancy Witt and Mrs. Roy Lewis.

The service will be held in the main church school auditorium, which has been undergoing repairs and improvements the past four months.

The auditorium has been repainted throughout. Floors have been sanded and refinished and new carpet, donated by the Alpha Tau class, has been laid.

New light fixtures and a new wiring system have been installed. The front of the auditorium has been redecorated to provide a suitable worship center.

The worship center is built around a large, framed picture, "The Head of Christ" (Sallman). The picture has been placed in the room by the Alpha Taus as a memorial to a former teacher, Mrs. Anna Rambo.

This memorial gift as well as the other improvements and additions will be dedicated during the service. The public has been invited to attend.

County Soldier Killed In Korea War; Was Ex-Resident's Son

Pvt. Earl K. Miller Jr., 21, of Evansburg, the only son of a former Pottstown resident, was killed in action in Korea on Sunday, Sept. 3, it was learned last night.

He was the second Montgomery county soldier to be killed since the Korean conflict began.

The first was Cpl. William Roeseler, Royersford RD 1, who was killed in July while fighting with the First Cavalry division.

Miller was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl K. Miller, of Level road, Evansburg. His mother is the former Marion Yerger, of Pottstown.

* * *

BORN IN Lower Providence township, he was a member of the Lower Providence Baptist church. He attended the Boyer school, Evansburg, and assisted his father in the operation of their farm before enlisting in the service on March 2, 1948.

After undergoing his basic training, he was stationed in Alaska. He was returned to the continental United States before going overseas, however, and his family visited him while he was stationed in Seattle, Wash.

Shortly afterwards, he was flown to the Korean combat zone where he served as a machine gunner with an Infantry regiment. His parents received their last word from him on Aug. 29, only six days before he was killed.

STREET WORK —

In November, he explained, snow removal is rarely a problem, and if there is much work to be done in December, it will be earmarked for January payment.

Knause told council Monday night, and repeated yesterday, that the highway department's financial situation would mean no additional new street work this year.

Virtually the only work scheduled is in the Allen K. Davidheiser and Warren B. Zern North End projects, and these will be paid by sewer liens on the streets affected.

The only work to be paid for out of general funds will be the paving of 952 feet on Hale street, from Wilson to Prospect street, in the Brookside homes development.

This work has been promised by the borough for many months.

* * *

THE ENTIRE problem of how much work can be done with the remaining funds will be thrashed ou at 7:30 o'clock Monday night when the finance and highway-sewer committees meet together.

Another financial problem will be how to pay for paving the vacant lot next to borough hall, until recently the site of the King street theater.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears has estimated that to grade the lot and pave it with a smooth blacktop material would cost between $4000 and $5000.

This amount has not been provided in the 1950 budget, but to pave the lot and make it a metered parking area would soon return the cost to the borough, councilmen have emphasized.

POLICE SCHEDULE —

from officers themselves as well as councilmen.

When police department members heard of Strange's proposed work system, they welcomed it, several policemen reported, because it put them all on an equal footing, with no one given preferential treatment.

Chief Laughead said yesterday he had not conferred with Griffith on Strange's proposal.

Sgt. Daniel J. Linton said of the Strange schedule, "If it's approved and put into effect by the burgess and the chief, it's okay with me."

Griffith's present system gives Linton day shift permanently. The veteran sergeant formerly worked nights only for many years.

Before Griffith's schedule was revealed, Linton had said he would accept permanent day shift if it was offered to him, because he felt he deserved it.

Now, apparently, he would be willing to work days only two weeks out of six, if using Strange's proposals would improve the morale of the police department.

SANITARY NEEDS —

both streets, has grown impatient waiting for facilities to be brought to him by the borough.

Three years ago he paid $416 to have a 175-foot artesian well dug. More money went to put in pipes to his home from the well and, a year ago, to dig a cesspool and install an inside toilet.

"It has taken my lifetime savings to live like a decent American," he said.

* * *

FOR MORE than 20 years before he put in his own services he carried water from a tap on a Hill school baseball diamond. That was in Summer.

In Winter when the tap was shut off to avoid freezing pipes, Williams and his family got water from a nearby spring.

"Of course, you take your chances with that kind of water. Sometimes it's best to boil it," he said.

Even with his self-installed facilities, he would connect to borough lines, he said. He would also connect to a double house he is building in the block in which he lives.

* * *

SOME OF THE residents wondered bitterly what they were getting in return for tax money.

"Yesterday I paid $43 in taxes," said Mrs. Charles V. Parson Sr., of 228 Mintzer street. "And what have we got to show for it? We have no water, no sewer and no road to speak of."

The Parsons also have dug an artesian well. And they have dug a sump for sewage—actually, three sumps in all. The first two filled with water.

Now they have a shallow one. It does not fill with water, Mrs. Parson said, but it has to be emptied once a year or more.

* * *

THE SEWERLESS situation has introduced a foul neighborhood condition, she said.

Behind their place is an open ditch into which the overflow from a nearby outhouse drains and garbage and wash water are thrown. The ditch flows into another ditch and thence to a storm sewer on Beech street.

"I dont let my grandson go near it," she said, "but I've seen neighbors' kids up there playing right in the ditch. It's a wonder they don't catch polio or something."

Mrs. Parson wondered why health authorities hadn't corrected the situation before.

Questioned last night, Health Officer Benjamin C. Steele said he knew the ditch was there but did not know sewage was being dumped into it. He would investigate today, he said.

The law provides persons may be forced to clean up outhouses and install septic tanks where connection with sewers is impossible, he said.

* * *

THE SITUATION on Sheridan street is not much better.

Mrs. Edward P. Brown, 756 Sheridan street, said of the health board's proposal:

"I'm for it 100 percent and I know the neighbors need it badly."

"Health means more than a couple of dollars—even if it means you have to go in debt to connect with water and sewage pipes," she added.

The Browns have installed their own artesian well and septic tank. But Mrs. Brown recalled the days when the situation for them was far from rosy.

Sometimes in Summers, she said, wells would run dry. Then they would have to buy bottled spring water not only for drinking but washing, too. Laundry would have to be sent out to be washed.

It was these conditions, made more acute by the six school-age children in the family, that made the Browns decide to dig their own well.

* * *

OTHER RESIDENTS of both streets who eagerly hoped for the installation of borough services were Mrs. Mary Reider, 755 Sheridan street, Clifford Durdin, of 759 Sheridan street, and Frank Thomas, of 244 Mintzer street.

Only one resident polled, Mrs. John Hudock, 715 Sheridan street, was unenthusiastic about the health board's motion.

It would be less work with water inside, she conceded, but the owners of her home would not afford to connect to borough-laid pipes; they are used to conditions as they are now and they are moving to another address soon, anyway.

Martin Pays Tribute To 109th Artillery

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Tribute was paid in the Senate yesterday to the 109th field artillery, of Pennsylvania, which suffered the heaviest casualties in Monday's train wreck in Ohio.

Senator Martin (R-Pa), a retired major general who once commanded the 28th division, of which the 109th artillery is a part, said in a speech:

"I know that every American is saddened by the heavy burden of tragedy and grief brought to the families of the boys who died in the wreck.

"The disaster brings the war closer to every one of us and should strengthen our determination to mobilize all our material and spiritual resources in the cause of freedom."

At the grange's next meeting, Sept. 27, officers will be nominated and elected.

CIO, G-E Wage Talks Kept Alive Another Day

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — The Government kept wage negotiations between General Electric corporation and the CIO Electrical workers alive through another day today and scheduled further peace talks for tomorrow afternoon.

Behind the government's determined efforts was the threat by James B. Carey, spokesman for the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers' (IUE) to spread the walkout to all of General Electric's plants if the government-sponsored mediation talks bog down.

A 1935 SEDAN was smashed to junk when it skidded on Route 100 near Pigeon creek yesterday afternoon at 12:45 o'clock and hit an electric pole.

The driver, William Schweizer Jr., 22, Wilmington, Del., told Devon State Trooper Joseph Hovanietz that he was traveling toward Pottstown when he came upon a southbound trailer and northbound car that had stopped while the operators talked to each other.

Schweizer said he attempted to stop in time to avoid hitting the car, but on the wet highway his old sedan skidded to the right and hit the pole. The pole was pushed back by the impact and broke off about halfway up its length.

Philadelphia Electric company crewmen checked the scene and found that the only break was in the pole. They will replace it when the rain stops.

The entire right front and side of the sedan was demolished. Schweizer was not injured.

A TRUCK BODY filled with baskets of tomatoes dropped off the truck early yesterday morning on a macadam road between New Berlinville and County Line inn.

Mrs. Howard Updegrove, New Berlinville, whose home is near the scene, said the solid-boarded body came to rest on the road, with the iron plate holding it to the truck carriage torn loose.

A crew came in a tractor-trailer to load the undamaged tomatoes onto the trailer and to shovel away the "ketchup." She said the drivers of the truck, which had no name on it, directed traffic themselves.

No report of the mishap was made to West Reading State police.

A HIT-RUN DRIVER tore a piece of chrome from a car driven by Florence Sales, Spring City RD 1, yesterday afternoon as he scraped the vehicle at the intersection of the Linfield road and the dirt road leading to the Linfield foundry.

State police of the Collegeville substation were investigating the mishap last night.

TWO CARS WERE damaged yesterday afternoon when they collided on Route 73, in Gilbertsville, after one of the drivers had signaled to make a left turn into a gas station.

Donald Hurter, 583 Virginia avenue, was traveling west on Route 73. As he drew near the gas station, he signaled to make a left turn.

A car driven by Samuel B. Moser, Plainsboro, N. J., which was traveling in the opposite direction, crashed into the right front of Hurter's car as he tried to make his turn.

KOREAN WAR —

wan is 12 miles northwest of Taegu.

Artillery shells fell four miles southwest of Taegu this morning. It was believed a Red assault was under way until it was learned the shells came from practicing South Korean batteries.

In a frontline tour over muddy roads on a rainy Wednesday, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker told U.N. troops "we will take the offensive in a very short period of time."

Reports from around the 125-mile battle line today depicted the Reds as either pinned down, trapped, giving ground or repulsed easily in the few probing attacks they attempted.

Plane pilots this morning spotted Reds retreating north across a river in the vicinity of Yonil, south of Red-held Pohang on the east coast. It was in this general area—between Pohang and Angang—that a former West Point football star led a task force in closing a trap today on 3000 Reds.

Two Million Dollar Lottery Ring Broken By FBI; Ten Seized

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The FBI announced today the arrest of nine persons in what was described as a $2,000,000 international lottery ticket ring.

Arrests were made in several cities, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said.

(A tenth person, the son of one of the principals, was arrested in Los Angeles, the FBI announced there.)

Hoover said an estimated $2,000,000 in sweepstakes tickets based on the running Dec. 26 of the Christmas two-year-old stakes race at Knutsford park, Kingston, Jamaica, B.W.I., have been printed by a Miami, Fla., printing concern and shipped to distributors in Canada, New York, California, Ohio, Texas, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Special FBI agents in Miami yesterday seized from a printing concern, which was not identified, lottery tickets having a face value of $450,000, Hoover said. At Miami the firm was identified as the Franklin press.

* * *

PLATES FROM which the tickets were made were seized, Hoover said, and the arrests of persons he described as "world agents" and "exclusive agents" for the ticket sales in several states followed today.

Hoover's statement said the action of the FBI took place before the lottery tickets could be put on sale in any quantity. He said the tickets were offered for sale for $1.25 and $1.50 in Canada.

The announcement said all those arrested are being charged with conspiracy to violate the Federal law against interstate transportation of lottery tickets.

The maximum penalty on conviction of violating the lottery transportation law is a fine of $10,000, imprisonment for five years or both.

Toronto police and the Royal Canadian mounted police co-operated with the FBI in a six-week investigation.

UN Commission to Air Ideas on Korea Future

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 13 (AP)—The United Nations Korean commission is expected to submit to the General assembly tomorrow its recommendations for the future of Korea.

These recommendations will be part of the commission's annual report and will undoubtedly be one of the major issues before the coming assembly session which opens in New York next Tuesday.

U. N. officials declined to disclose the contents of the report, but it is recalled that the commission previously has insisted there could be no permanent stability in Korea until a single unified government is established for the whole country.

Tobey Hails Win As Boost to GOP Progressiveness

TEMPLE, N. H., Sept. 13 (AP) — U. S. Senator Charles W. Tobey today called his victory in a bitterly fought Republican primary "a victory for a forward looking brand of Republicanism."

The 70-year-old Tobey, a self-styled liberal who has frequently clashed with GOP policy makers, served notice, too, that he hoped to go back to the Senate for a third term "still a free man—ready to vote for what I think is in the interests of the people no matter who proposes it."

Tobey won renomination by only 1127 votes yesterday over Wesley Powell, 34-year-old World War II veteran who campaigned as an admitted conservative. With the outcome decided in the final returns, Tobey polled 39,003 votes to 37,876 for Powell.

Tobey meets Democratic National Committeeman Emmet J. Kelley in the November election. Kelley was unopposed for his party's nomination.

Another lively fight shapes up for the veteran Tobey, even though New Hampshire has not sent a Democratic senator to Washington in 18 years.

GOP Bloc Demands Excess Profits Vote Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Thirty-two House Republicans joined today in an announcement that they will oppose any adjournment of Congress without action on an excess profits tax.

They did not insist, however, that such a super-tax on business necessarily be incorporated in the pending $4,508,000,000 tax increase bill which leaders are seeking to send to a joint Senate-House conference for final adjustment. They would be satisfied with action in a separate measure—just so the action was taken before Congres quit.

The Democratic leadership has been talking about an excess profits tax only in terms of action after a vacation, probably in January. And Scott Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader in the Senate, said again today he is going to try to wind up business in that body Saturday.

The fight over the issue comes to a head tomorrow. Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa) served notice in the House today that he will move to insert the profits levy into the general tax bill. The prospects are for a slam bang battle.

* * *

THE 32 REPUBLICANS favoring immediate action on excess profits served notice that some of their group will vote against sending the tax bill to conference "unless the Democratic leadership gives positive assurance that Congress will not adjourn before voting on an excess profits tax bill."

Explaining their view, the Republican members said:

"It is intolerable to send American youth into battle, or even to freeze wages and prices, without at the same time removing the excess profits resulting from war."

Almost simultaneously with the Republican statement, Eberharter and three other Democrats—Young of Ohio, Carroll of Colorado and King of California—sent a joint letter to all House members urging action now.

"We believe that an excess profits tax on corporations should be enacted now," they wrote. "It is more than a matter of revenue which we so sorely need. It is a moral issue."

Senate Unit Gives Approval To Marshall, House Delays

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Senate armed services committee today promptly approved a special bill to let General George C. Marshall serve as secretary of Lefense, but House committeemen decided to think it over a couple of days.

President Truman personally asked Congress to write an exception—in Marshall's case alone—into the existing law which bars a military man from holding the No. 1 civilian defense post.

The Senate committee approved the bill requested by the White House, 10 to 2. The House armed services committee, headed by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), postponed action until Friday. Several members were out of town, and Vinson said he considered the matter so important he wanted the full committee on hand if possible.

Nevertheless, informal expressions of opinion from members of the House unit indicated the legislation would go through there, too.

* * *

THE PRESIDENT, taking note of these objections, wrote Vinson and Chairman Tydings (D-Md), of the Senate armed services committee:

"I am a firm believer in the general principle that our defense establishment should be headed by a civilian.

"However, in view of the present critical circumstances and of General Marshall's unusual qualifications, I believe that the national interest will be served best by making an exception in this case."

Tydings told newsmen it was clear that Mr. Truman wanted the exception to apply to no other person than Marshall, to no other circumstances, and to no other time in the future.

Under the 1947 unification law, an officer who has served in the armed forces within the past ten years is ineligible to become Secretary of Defense.

Suds for the Service Brews Bitter Battle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—A beer-for-the-boys-in-Korea controversy foamed up on Capitol Hill today.

On one side, Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) proposed a daily beer ration for every fighting man on the house—at the taxpayers' expense, that is.

On the other side, Rep. Bryson (D-SC) urged that everybody—soldiers and civilians alike—go on the wagon for the duration.

Both proposals came on the morning after an Army order in Tokyo stopped the distribution of a can of beer a day, for free, to every combat man who wanted one. It seems there had been complaints from some people back home.

Army officials quickly modified the ban after howls of anguish arose. Hereafter, no beer will be bought with public funds. But the can-a-day system will continue—for front-line troops only—and will be financed from such sources as Post Exchange profits.

* * *

THIS DIDN'T satisfy Dingell.

"Water in Korea is deadlier than bullets," he declared, and went on to list the maladies that might overtake a confirmed water drinker—typhus . . . cholera . . . dysentery.

Introducing a bill to provide free beer, the Michigan Democrat asserted:

"To force our American troops to drink dangerously polluted water is the equivalent of an attack from the rear by infiltration."

Bryson contended nobody should touch the stuff—beer, that is—in times like these. He already has introduced a bill to outlaw alcoholic beverages in time of emergency. He says it would save materials and manpower.

* * *

SUPPORT FOR this view came from Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the Women's Christian Temperance union.

At Denver, where the WCTU's 76th convention opens tomorrow, she called for congressional action "to protect drafted youngsters against alcoholism."

Army authorities here asked the Korean command to explain what the row is all about.

A spokesman said the Pentagon neither banned the beer nor ordered the ban lifted. As in World War II, he said, the question is up to commanders in the field.

Adoption Agency Charges Refuted By Dick Powell

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13 (AP)—The spotlight on a Memphis, Tenn., adoption agency — under investigation for reportedly selling infants at a profit — swung today toward filmland.

Several movie notables, among them Joan Crawford and a famous married couple, June Allyson and Dick Powell, have adopted children from the institution—the Tennessee Children's Home society.

Today Powell issued a statement in which he strongly denied that he paid an exorbitant sum for the child the Powells adopted in 1948. A Tennessee welfare official yesterday asserted that the traffic in babies ran to $1,000,000 and some foster parents "have paid sums of as much as $750 in each case while the average cost of transporting the babies has been less than $100."

Powell's statement said:

"The Tennessee Children's home of Memphis, Tenn., is one of the finest organizations of its kind in the world. I know this to be a fact as June and I got our baby, Pamela, there. I have every confidence in Georgia Pann, who is in charge of the home.

Big Three Accord Is Hinted on Phases Of German Situation

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Big Three foreign ministers were reported tonight to have reached "broad agreement" on various aspects of the German problem. There was no sign, however, whether they have determined how to use German manpower in the defense of Western Europe.

After a four-hour meeting of Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman this afternoon the ministers were said to have found themselves in agreement on broad phases of the problem. Earlier persons close to the talks had predicted that a solution of the German manpower problem which would be acceptable to the British, French and Western Germans would be found.

The Foreign ministers did not finish their discussions on Germany and will continue the talks at 10:30 a. m., Pottstown time, tomorrow.

British, French and American press officers said that the foreign ministers did not discuss the problems of Turkey and Greece at today's sessions.

* * *

THE MINISTERS heard reports from committees appointed yesterday and also heard reports from an intergovernmental study group which has been operating in London.

Official sources discounted reports that the ministers were deadlocked on the point of using German manpower in a Western European defense system. They pointed out that the ministers simply had not completed their views and that there were still more points to be discussed.

After the two-hour morning session informed sources said that the ministers had gone into the question of the rearmament of Western Germany, the most controversial issue facing them.

The problem is how to include Western Germany's men in the defense setup without building a German military machine that might once more threaten Europe.

Nude Photos of Coeds Raise Parents' Ire

SEATTLE, Sept. 13 (AP)—A scholarly research job at the University of Washington was called off today because parents objected to the photographing of their daughters in the nude.

A university spokesman said it was all the result of a "misunderstanding." But he added that the 300 negatives taken so far had been destroyed and the project had been called off at the school—at least temporarily.

Sponsors said the project had been going on for 15 years at a dozen different schools and referred to it as the "somatotype" (type of body build) project.

But to parents of the girls it was just full length, nude photographs of their daughters — both front and profile views.

University officials said the misunderstanding arose from the fact that because of a heavy registration the girls had not been told, as planned, that the photographing during routine physical examinations was purely voluntary.

The photos were being taken by Miss Barbara Honeyman, executive director of the Constitution laboratory at the Columbia University Medical school.

Dr. William Sheldon, a psychologist and assistant professor of medicine on the Columbia faculty of medicine, has published a number of medical books embracing findings made from such pictures. The air of the study, the university said, is "to determine if a relationship exists between an individual's behavior and his physique, and to establish norms (patterns) for medical diagnosis and treatment."

Earlier, the project brought such comments as this one from mothers:

"Someone should have at least given the girls an explanation. And why couldn't they block out the faces with a mask before they made the negatives?"

Miss Honeyman said that after the photographed students are typed, the faces are blacked out on the negatives. The negatives, she added, are kept under lock and key.

Dr. Raymond B. Allen, president of the University of Washington who ordered destruction of the negatives, said:

"It is most unfortunate that the criticism has arisen. Pictures have been taken at other schools in connection with the research project."

Ten Local Student Nurses Get Diplomas At Pottstown Hospital School's Exercises

A group of women in white, solemn in demeanor, their eyes filled with the hope of helping mankind in sickness, walked steadily down the aisle of the Pottstown Junior High school auditorium last evening, and the commencement exercises for the Pottstown Hospital School of Nursing began.

The ten nurses who had spent three arduous years in training for this great graduation moment, followed their sisters in blue and white uniforms, who are still in training, down the aisle, then took their places in the first row of seats.

Before they received their diplomas and became the full fledged healing assistants of medical men they listened to a warm guiding address, opulent in encouragement, by the Rev. A. Burtis Hallock Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The pastor pointed out that "joy in your work and joy of service can come from knowing that you are not alone; that the universe is on your side and that you have a part in God's plan for mankind."

The Rev. Hallock chose "It Takes More Than an Education to Make a Good Nurse," for his topic. He said, "we are to be convinced that we are doing the work that God wants us to do" and he also stressed that we should "never overlook the spiritual side of life."

The commencement exercises began with the National Anthem and an invocation by the Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church.

The "welcome" was delivered by Mr. Charles L. Schulz, president of board of trustees.

The following people were then introduced: Mr. Brooke Lessig, Mr. Sam Keiser, Mr. Samuel Straub, Mr. Daniel Unger, Mr. Irvin W. Riegner, Mr. George Longaker and Mr. Charles L. Schulz, all members of the board of trustees; Mr. A. C. Seawell, administrator of the hospital, Miss Sarah R. Sower, director of School of Nursing; Dr. C. Robert Elicker, president of medical staff; Mrs. E. B. Heindel, president of Senior Womens' auxiliary; Mrs. Stephen T. Lloyd, president of Junior Womens' auxiliary; Dr. Alice E. Sheppard, chairman of Nursing School council and Mrs. Bessie Seitz, president of Pottstown Hospital Nurses Alumnae association.

A vocal solo, "My Task," was presented by Miss H. Jean Keitz, R.N., and a graduate of the Pottstown Hospital Nurses' school. She was accompanied by Miss Orpha W. Miller, R.N., on the piano.

After the awarding of diplomas a "response" was delivered by Dorothea Shisler of the graduating class.

The Senior Women's Hospital auxiliary awards were presented by the president, Mrs. E. B. Heindel. Miss Dorothy Shisler received the award for best all-around and operating room nurse; Miss Rosemarie Schutz received the medical and surgical nursing award and Miss Mildred Ott, the obstretical award.

Mrs. Stephen T. Lloyd, president of the Junior Hospital auxiliary, presented all of the graduates with a plastic case containing two thermometers.

The graduating nurses then pledged to devote themselves with loyalty to the physician and to endeavor to aid him, each to the best of her ability, and "to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully," as they took the Florence Nightingale pledge.

Miss Keitz sang the "Lord's Prayer" and a benediction was given by the Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church.

A reception for relatives and friends of the members of the graduating class followed the commencement in the nurses' residence.

The Lady of the Lamp

"Lo! in that house of misery
A lady with a lamp I see
Pass through the glimmering gloom,
And flit from room to room,
And slow as in a dream of bliss,
The speechless sufferer turns to kiss
Her shadow, as it falls
Upon the darkening walls."

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

PERSONALS

Mr. Henry Machrich, of 50 West Fifth street, was transferred from Pottstown hospital to the Reading hospital.

Miss Joan E. Grofe Becomes Bride of Mr. Richard Patrizi

Simplicity marked the lovely ceremony yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Joan Elizabeth Grofe and Mr. Richard Ambrose Patrizi were united in marriage in St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Miss Grofe is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Grofe, 178 North Charlotte street, and Mr. Nelson Grofe, Boyertown RD 2. Mr. Patrizi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Patrizi, 557 High street.

The ceremony was performed before friends and relatives from Philadelphia, New York, Boyertown and the Pottstown area by the Rev. B. H. Creamers, rector of St. Columbkill's Catholic church, Boyertown, assisted by the Rev. William M. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Music was presented by Mrs. Geraldine Guthrie, cousin of the bridegroom, who sang bridal selections, and Miss Eleanor Stranick, organist.

Miss Grofe was lovely in a street-length dress of rust velveteen with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of yellow baby orchids sprinkled with yellow chrysanthemums. Her father gave her in marriage.

* * *

MAID OF HONOR was Miss Gloria Spatziani, in a forest green velveteen dress with matching accessories and a bouquet of mixed chrysanthemums.

A brother of the bride, Mr. Gerrold Grofe, was best man.

The mother of the bride was attired in a plum-colored Fall suit with gray accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Patrizi chose a brown-gold suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held in the Clover Leaf restaurant, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip through the southern states. For traveling, Mrs. Patrizi chose a wheat wool gabardine suit with a velour hat trimmed with gold, and a beige topcoat.

When they return they will reside temporarily at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride was graduated from Boyertown Senior High school, and her husband was graduated from Pottstown High school. Both were graduated from the Philadelphia Museum School of Art the past Spring, and are self-employed as artists and decorators.

College Students Begin Exodus to Schools; Specialized Professions Chosen by Many

While housewives are thinking of the coming housecleaning season, and the breadwinners are contemplating storing away their golf clubs and fishing rods, dozens of local young men and women are beginning, or about to begin, college life.

For many, this year will be the first, and although they dreamed of the gay times to be had at any college or university, large or small, it's probable that a few pangs of homesickness, which strike almost every student the first semester, are being wrestled with.

Students from Pottstown and area have chosen a wide variety of subjects in which to advance themselves. Many of the girls took nursing, while others chose physical education, music and even medicine.

The boys favored business administration, physical education and engineering of different types.

John Frantz, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John B. Frantz, 1028 Belleview avenue, is a freshman majoring in history at Swarthmore college, Swarthmore. He was graduated from The Hill the past Spring.

Religion is the major subject chosen by Daniel Bechtel, who will study at Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ira Bechtel, 211 Henry street.

Miss Drane Kendall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gray Kendall, The Hill, arrived in Dallas, Tex., recently to enter Hockaday Preparatory school, where she will be a member of the third form. Miss Kendall had three days of orientation programs and get-acquainted parties before formal classes began today.

* * *

THIS SUNDAY Miss Virginia Davenport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley I. Davenport, 127 King street, will leave for Cedar Crest College, Allentown, where she will be a freshman. Miss Davenport has tentative plans to major in history.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

ONE of Heywood Broun's pet hates was ghost-written political speeches—particularly when they failed utterly to reflect either the convictions or the personalities of the big shots who were delivering them. Warren G. Harding pulled one of these phony orations at a newsmen's banquet shortly after he had assumed the presidency — a pompous, cliche-laden address that sounded more like a circus press-agent than a president of the United States. There was some polite applause as Harding resumed his seat. Then Broun jumped up and cried, "Author! Author!"

Bob Considine and his popular wife Mildred were off for one of the innumerable parties they attend. At the door Mrs. C. embraced one of her young hopefuls and said, "Do you want to play with your electric trains tonight or just stay with Nursie?" The boy answered without hesitation. "What would Daddy do?"

Tickle Your Funnybone

The restaurant patron had been waiting for service at his table for 15 minutes. Noticing a waiter standing nearby with folded arms, he thought he'd pass some time away with conversation. "Say," he inquired, "How'd the Yankees make out in the double-header today?"

"Sorry," replied the waiter haughtily, "this isn't my table."

Colebrookdale PTA Hears Rev. Neilson Talk on World Chaos

A good representation was present at the first meeting of the Colebrookdale Parent-Teacher association held in the Colebrookdale school where they heard as the guest speaker for the evening, the Rev. Robert Neilson, pastor of Colebrookdale Union chapel.

He discussed, "The Great Chaos Our World Is In." The theme of the meeting was "Citizens Know Each Other."

The Rev. Neilson said that parents and teachers can do well by teaching our children our freedoms, so that if anyone infringes on these freedoms, then is when we as a country must defend these freedoms.

He added that we can do well by giving the children all the moral, spiritual and scholastic support that is possible, which will give them a well balanced mind to make them optomists instead of pessimists.

The theme for the October meeting will be "Safety," which will be featured by a Pennsylvania State police dog show.

A social hour followed the meeting in charge of the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Clara Wentzel.

The president of the group, Mrs. Anne G. Brady, was in charge.

Senate Unit Approves Defense Funds Bill To Finance War; Swift Passage Seen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — The Senate appropriations committee tonight unanimously approved an emergency defense bill carrying an estimated $17,185,000,000 to bolster the United States and friendly nations abroad against aggression.

The committee added about $414,000,000 to the total in the bill approved by the House Aug. 26 by a vote of 310 to 1.

The House bill would provide $16,771,000,000. The Senate figure was fixed tentatively at $17,185,000,000, pending recapitulation of last-minute changes made by the committee.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn), committee chairman, reported the bill immediately to the Senate, which probably will begin debate on it tomorrow. Speedy passage is expected.

The bill meets almost fully President Truman's request for emergency funds to finance the fighting in Korea and to prepare against Communist aggression wherever it might crop up.

In addition to about $11,640,000,000 to build America's own defenses, the bill carries $4,000,000,000 to help arm friendly nations abroad.

* * *

THE MEASURE provides cash for 5333 new war planes.

The Senate bill adds about $93,000,000 to the House total for American defense. The increase includes $40,000,000 more for replacement of Navy ships, $18,000,000 for Army medical and hospital care, $10,000,000 for Navy medical care, and $25,000,000 for an air engineering development center near Tullahoma, Tenn.

One item in the proposed Senate legislation is $76,000 for the Secret Service to provide greater protection for the President and his family.

In a series of actions, the committee:

1. Rejected President Truman's request for $139,800,000 to move key Government offices outside the range of an A-bomb attack on the nation's Capital.

Mr. Truman has specified that the agencies would be "dispersed within commuting distance" of Washington in the nearby areas of Maryland or Virginia.

The House has already turned down the same request, with some lawmakers complaining that the legislation was designed to "save the hides" of Federal bureaucrats in the event of war.

2. Approved $60,000,000 for administration of the new economic controls law, signed by Mr. Truman last week, and $6,000,000 for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

* * *

IN OTHER DEFENSE mobilization developments:

1. The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to broaden the powers of the FBI in guarding against spies, saboteurs and subversives.

The bill would authorize FBI agents to make arrests without a warrant for any offense against the United States committed in their presence—the same authority carried by U. S. marshals.

Under present law, FBI agents can make arrests without warrants only in cases involving a felony.

In urging the legislation, the Justice department said it was needed so that FBI men can cope with "urgent situations" and make arrests "either to prevent flight or prevent the disposition of vital evidence."

2. Navy plans to complete its build-up to 67,514 officers and 512,291 enlisted men by next March were disclosed in testimony by Vice Admiral J. W. Roper, chief of Navy personnel, before the Senate appropriations committee. The testimony was made public today.

Roper said the program will call an additional 23,934 officers and 182,568 enlisted men and women to active duty.

WOMEN'S UNIT TO MEET

Mrs. Marie Schutt, president of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Keystone Fire company, has requested all members to attend tonight's meeting of the group at 8 o'clock in the fire hall.

Czech Soldiers Set For Head Shaves

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 13 (AP)—Czechoslovak soldiers soon will have their heads shaved like Soviet troops, the Prague Army newspaper Obrana Lidu reported today.

Lt. Jaroslav Jenicek, who wrote the article, said one private, who already had had his head shaved in accordance with regulations, told him "his girl burst into tears when she saw him without hair."

Lt. Jenicek advised the soldier to forget the girl, "because she evidently cares only for his hair and not that he is a defender of our people's democratic homeland."

He said the new order was for hygenic reasons.

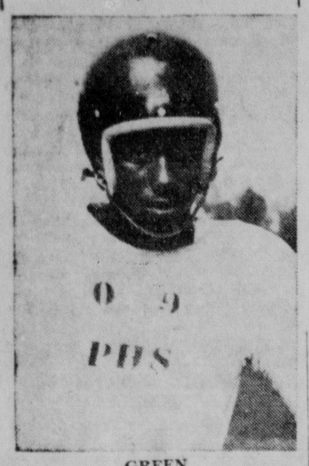
Meet the Trojans



GREEN

SAM GREEN, yclept Paul, is Mr. Ram of Pottstown High's ground attack. A five-ten, 185-pound fullback, Senior Sam is the Trojans' leading candidate for all-state honors.

In 1949, his second season as the Trojans' No. 1 fullback, Green specialized in boisterous assaults at foe lines, and with the help of exceptional blocking, averaged some six yards per carry.

The current season is expected to prove a real test of the Green mettle. Pottstown's inexperienced forwards will provide something short of fine clearance help he received last year.

With that in mind, Green has been given several "outside" plays, and will do more passing. In the latter department, he proved a handy customer last season, particularly in the Norristown fracas when he hurled two touchdown strikes.

A basketball and track sparkler, Sam is angling for a college bid at the conclusion of the school year. His choice: Penn State.

☆ ★ ☆

HARRY HAUSMANN is a Senior getting his big—and last—chance to go to bat for the alma mater. One thing is certainly in his favor: Harry, at 225, is the heftiest gentleman on the Trojan practice field.

That heft, plus some added speed, earned the husky lineman a shift from guard to tackle, where he probably will be stationed when the Trojans open against Upper Merion High here next week.

Last year, Harry had the light job of backing up Ken Savlor and Carl Bodolus, two of Pottstown's finest guards of grid history, who hardly ever quit the battle. Consequently, Hausmann missed out on some needed experience.

But the big boy has been around long enough to know what's what, can move with deceptively fast action, and will not be pushed around very much. It should be a good year for Hausmann.

☆ ★ ☆

WILLIE WALTON, who has run the also-ran gamut since Junior High, probably will come into his own as a starting guard on the 1950 Trojan roster.

Bantamweight at 145, the five-five guard must depend upon getting in the first lick for blocking effectiveness. Defensively, he is hard to uproot, and fast enought to regain his footing after a play and track down his prey.

Always plugging, Walton showed to advantage in a recent scrimmage against Emmaus where his defensive work was better than the general Trojan par.

Walton is a two-sporter, having lettered in track at PHS for his work in the 220 and 440-yard runs. He'll return to the track this Spring.

Aussie Aces Score in Net Tournament

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13 (AP)—Lew by the top two Davis cup stars from Australia, Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, favorites advanced into the quarter finals of the men's singles in the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament today.

McGregor encountered keen competition from Jimmy Brink of Seattle, seeded No. 7, but won by scores of 1-6, 7-5, 7-5. Brink held a 5-4 lead in the second set, and had the service and a chance to run out the match, but he hit one shot into the net to lose a point and McGregor drove a fast one down the sideline to pull the match out of the fire.

• • •

Veteran Ted Schroeder of America's Davis cup team routed one of the lesser lights on the Australian team, Mervyn Rose, 6-0, 6-2. Schroeder looked most impressive.

U. S. National singles champion Art Larsen of San Francisco downed Whitney Read, Alameda, Calif., 8-6, 5-7, 6-4. Larsen took the match rather leisurely at first but fired up when Read suddenly got hot.

Herb Flam, of Beverly Hills, runner-up in the nationals to Larsen, eliminated Larne Main, Canadian Davis cupper, 6-3, 6-2.

All was quiet today on the Schroeder-Larsen verbal front. The two exchanged sharp words yesterday after Schroeder was quoted in an interview as severely criticising Larsen's game. The discussion cooled down after Schroeder apologized.

• • •

ROUNDING OUT today's third round men's singles, Earl Cochell, Los Angeles, defeated Australia's George Worthington, 6-2, 6-3; Feliscimo Ampon of the Philippines defeated Sam Match of San Francisco, 0-6, 8-6, 6-3, and Tom Brown of San Francisco, Schroeder's Davis cup teammate, defeated Stan Clark of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-1.

Thus the tournament reaches the renewal of the recent Davis cup battle and the pairings will send Schroeder against McGregor again and Sedgman against Brown. Larsen goes against Ampon and Flam against Cochell.

Extra Legs

Trojan Crutch Class Has Enrollment of 4

Pottstown High had a squad of 34 football players and seven crutches today after an injury wave claimed another Trojan.

Latest to be stricken was first string center Dick Weiser, who was informed that he had suffered a broken bone in his ankle during a scrimmage with Emmaus last Friday.

Weiser had been hobbling around, but was able to walk. Then X-ray pictures revealed the fracture and the junior center was given a pair of crutches and his ankle was encased in a cast.

Others out of action in the freak accident epidemic are:

1. Fred Paprocki, husky line candidate who gashed a foot at Earlville while the Trojans were in camp. He was about ready to toss away his one crutch yesterday.

2. Bill Senate, moving about with two false legs after suffering the fracture of two foot bones at Earlville. He was trying out for a line job.

3. Bill Garrow, outstanding guard prospect who was cut down in the Emmaus scrimmage. At first a fracture was feared, then the injury was diagnosed as a sprain, and finally doctors tossed crutches at Garrow and told him to take it easy until they figured it out.

Two more semi-casualties are back Dick Schlichter with a twisted ankle and tackle Ronnie Downey with weak arches.

All of the casualties have been attending practices regularly, however, so as not to miss new blocking plans and plays as the team preps for an opener with Upper Merion less than two weeks away.

• • •

YESTERDAY'S RAIN chased the Trojans into the gym where they spent more than an hour brushing up on blocking assignments. That, and individual specialties continue to be the weakest points.

Meanwhile, Coach Heeb Meyers was concocting an apparently strong defensive backfield to back up the inexperienced line.

Sam Green and Stan Chaplin, both vets at the job, will be the backersup, while Paul Duttenhofer and very likely sub fullback Walt Nixon will be the defensive halfbacks. Mike Kriczky is angling for a safety post.

Nixon will lend height and vicious tackling to the secondary while Kriczky gives added pass defense by dint of his speed and pass-grabbing abilities. Both are up from Junior High.

When a five-man line is the ticket, Herbie White, an end converted to guard, probably will become the sixth man in the secondary.

Boswell Scores In Blind Golf

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 13 (AP)—A former Alabama fullback, Charlie Boswell of Birmingham, Ala., today won the second annual Blind Golfers International tournament.

Boswell put together a 95 today with his 107 yesterday for a winning 36-hole total of 202.

Veteran Greenie Eleven Primed for Quakertown Test

It will be the same old wrecking crew, plus considerably more poundage and minus the great Dick Ziegler, that trots onto the turf for East Greenville High tomorrow night in an early football opener against Quakertown High at Quakertown.

The Greenies, who walked away with the Perk league prize in 1949, thanks chiefly to the brilliance of Ziegler, now an Army plebe, hope to unveil a unit that will make East Greenville fanatic football followers forget all about the 49ers.

And Coaches Dave Pritchard and Warren Guldin are waist-deep in Greenville's fanatic football folmaterial that can do just that. Against Quakertown, beaten 20-6 in last year's opener, the Jackets will field a line boasting six lettermen in seven posts, and a completely veteran backfield.

There have been some shifts in personnel, however. Compensating for the loss of Ziegler is the return of Ray Stoneback, chunky quarterback who injured a hip early in 1949 and sat out the season.

Stoneback moves into Zig's fullback slot, and like his predecessor will call the dance from there.

Handling the T-formation quarterbacking job will be Ken Miller, rangy center of last year, who has bulged into a 175-pounder, Miller's clever ball-handling as an all-conference center with the Greenie cage team helped bring on his transfer to the important quarterback role.

• • •

WITH THE TWO all-sport Greenie greats in the backfield will be Mike Duka, pass-grabbing all-Perk halfback, and swift Robby Frank, whose 1949 outside dashes helped pry open the middle for Ziegler's bashes into the line.

On the stag line, the Greenies boast halfbacks Gordie Oplinger, Dick Hell and Denny Roth, all capable mailcarriers, defensive standout Hummel, a soph fullback, and wispish Dick Ensminger, a reserve signalman.

Only one newcomer is a likely starter in the Jacket line. He is Terry Fetterman, a freshman center who has the inside rail for Miller's vacated job. But before the 155-pound Fetterman can call the position his own, he'll have to outhustle Arnold Bardman, a letter-winning guard who has been shifted to the pivot.

At guards, Pritchard plans to open with Paul Bardman, an all-Perk selection who has added five pounds to his 160-pound 1949 weight, and Cliff Marks, a converted fullback.

Co-captain Charlie King, 180 pounds of drive, opens at right tackle, with Gene Needs, another letterman, going at left tackle. Needs weighs 175.

Regular Bob Swenk, 175, and reserve Nels Marks, 165, are the choices for starting wing jobs tomorrow.

• • •

BEHIND THAT array are Roeller Kolb, guard, Willard Bieler, tackle —both lettermen—and guard Don Franks, tackle John Olsen, and end Dale Miller, Gordon Hamm and Tommy Tomlinson, all of whom probably will see opener action.

Pritchard will string along with his T-formation quick openers and single-wing power plays, and cross occasionally with Stoneback or Miller-directed aerials. He envisions no balking of his ground game despite the loss of Ziegler. And overhead . . . well, they're saying that Stoneback can heave them with all the finesse of Zig, and more.

The coaches figure that Quakertown will give them just what they need to measure the effectiveness of the current edition. The flaws they find and weak spots, if any, they detect will be corrected before a Perk league Big Four opener with Spring City the following week.

Erntex, Seniors Gain Outdoor Court Finals

Erntex and the Senior Trojans vaulted easily into the finals of the Outdoor Basketball tournament last night when they turned in overwhelming semifinal triumphs at the Junior High gym.

The Knitters, coasting all the way, put superior height to work to blast out the Junior Trojans, 62-28; while the Seniors breezed to a 47-21 conquest of East End. The victors will meet in the winners' bracket final, probably Friday night.

Smooth Henry Stofko ripped in 24 points on 11 baskets and a pair of free throws to pace the Knitter attack. He was joined in double figure totals by Dick Bender, who scored ten of his 15 markers in the final half; and Earl Strom, a 13-point-producer.

At halftime, the victors were running strong on a 25-8 lead. Then in the last half, the tourney favorites racked up 37 markers, while the Juniors were getting 20.

Dave Reidenouer scored eight points to pace the losers, while Carl Frederick and Dick Powell pumped in six apiece.

• • •

TOW-HEADED VINCE Rettew found his most prolific scoring bloom of his career as the Seniors won. Vince drove under the irons for 17 markers on eight fielders, a foul, to keep his team safely ahead all the way.

The Seniors, using only five players, led by 21-8 at halftime and were never threatened thereafter. Lou Iezzi counted nine times, John Hallman eight, Dick Ricketts seven and Jess Baro six.

General Faces Stern Test in 5 .300 Hitters

UAW'S City league champions, who would be a very unhappy lot if they should drop a contest to a bunch of kids, are ready to shoot five .300-plus hitters and a flock of long ball clubbers at Pottstown's Legion Juniors Sunday at Memorial park.

The two teams are meeting in a sort of command performance for the Harold Bauer Benefit fund.

And if that sextet does not frighten young Jess, the Workers can call upon Eddie Hallman, Joe Ruyak and George Misko, all sticking at a .286 figure, and homer-conscious Stan Wayock.

• • •

FANS WHO WATCHED both the Legion and the City champs perform this year have instigated the contest. Many of them believe that Baro can shake down the best of CIL hitters; others hold that there is too much experience, savvy and power for the Legions to handle.

It will be the first such game in Pottstown baseball history, chiefly because no previous Legion team excited its followers to such faith.

Last Saturday, the Juniors polished off the Sunday School All-Stars, 6-2, but had to shake off a decided rustiness before turning the trick.

UAW's last contest resulted in a 7-5 pennant winning victory over Flaggs in the CIL finals last Friday.

We Will Win, if..—Greasy Neale

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13 (AP)—Earle (Greasy) Neale is a very optimistic man for a coach whose team faces its most important game in history without three stars.

"We'll beat the Cleveland Browns Saturday night if our team plays the game it is capable of," said Neale.

This, despite the fact, his Philadelphia Eagles—two time National Football league champions — will play without Steve Van Buren and tackle Al Wistert, possibly minus scatback Bosh Pritchard and with a banged up halfback in Clyde Scott.

Neale sat in the dressing room under Municipal Stadim today as a heavy rain washed out his planned practice session. You'd have thought his face would be as clouded as the heavy skies above.

But not Neale.

He spoke loudly, for the consumption of his players dressing at nearby lockers. "We'll win if our boys carry out their assignments, if we block like we should and not like we did in losing to the Chicago Bears last Sunday."

Harness Racing Set at Reading

READING, Sept. 13 (AP)—Pennsylvania's largest one-day harness racing card is scheduled for tomorrow at the 1950 Reading Fair.

Rain today caused fair race secretary Paul Esterly to place five major races on the card, which features the Reading Fair Futurity for two-year-old pacers and the Reading Fair Futurity for three-year-old pacers.

Purse for the Futurity pace will be $14,620, the largest single-race purse ever offered for a harness race in Pennsylvania standard-bred history. Aggregate monies for the five races tomorrow is $29,489.

Racing will get underway at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow to accomodate the heavy program. Listed beside the futurities are the 23 class trot, the 19 class pace, and the free-for-all race, which will feature the nation's leading sidewheelers. Fourteen heats will be run in all. Races scheduled for today will be run off tomorrow.

Because of inclement weather earlier in the week, a double entertainment program is booked for Thursday evening. An automobile and motorcycle thrill show is scheduled for 10 p. m. tomorrow.

PHS Boosters Club Holds First Meeting

Organizers are hoping for a full house tonight when the first meeting of the Pottstown High Boosters club will be held at the High School auditorium at 8 o'clcok.

The eleventh hour move to get the Boosters organized and rolling before the Trojan grid schedule opens next Friday night was put in action by younger members of the school's alumni. Early memberships are expected to come largely from the graduating classes of the past six to eight years, but everyone is welcome, a spokesman for the organization said.

Tonight, everyone on hand will be signed into the club and presented with a membership card. Later, officers will be elected to head the organization.

Heretofore, booster organization functions have been carried on haphazardly and often have been originated among underclassmen. The purpose of the planned club is to encourage interest among adult Pottstown and secure and maintain more directed backing for the High School's athletic teams.

Pre-organization workers have mailed cards to many PHS alumni, but realize they have missed many others. They issue a general welcome tonight.

Sanatoga Races Reset Tonight; List 113 Laps

The 25-lap Emmaus Sweepstakes and seven other events were rained out last night at Sanatoga Speedway, forcing postponement of the midweek stock car racing feature until tonight, Promoter Karl Spatz said.

The card may be the final midweek program for the fifth-mile blacktopped oval, Spatz said. With the coming of cold weather, the promoter plans to inaugurate a Sunday afternoon only program.

Tigers, Yanks Win, Square Off Today; Giants, Braves Advance

DETROIT, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers clung grimly to their half game lead in the American League pennant race as they cashed in on 10 hits and a couple of breaks to whip the Washington Senators 6-1 today.

The Tigers then cleared the decks to await tomorrow's invasion by the second place New York Yankees who will play an all-important three-game series here.

Detroit had trouble getting a sustained offensive under way as eight men were left stranded during the game which was a nip and tuck affair until the eighth.

The Senators blew sky high in that inning as they erred on the base paths and afield to help the Tigers win their 13th decision in 22 games with the Washington club.

Washington went into the eighth on the short end of a 3-0 score but drove Freddie Hutchinson from the box with three straight hits to open the inning. Pinch-hitter Gil Coan's double was followed by Eddie Yost and Ed Stewart with Coan scoring.

• • •

MICKEY VERNON then flied to right and Stewart, apparently thinking it was the third out, was doubled at first as he ambled leisurely around the bases. That eased the Senators' pressure with relief pitcher Teddy Gray holding them in check the rest of the way.

Washington fell apart defensively in the eighth as Sam Dente messed up Gray's grounder which should have been the third out.

The play helped Detroit load the bases on a Hoot Evers' single and a walk with all three runs scoring as Don Kolloway's line single got by centerfielder Irv Noren for a two-base error that made it a 6-1 game.

Hutchinson grabbed his 16th triumph and had a five-hit shutout until Washington's eighth. Bob Kuzava was charged with his ninth loss.

Yanks Rebound

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Yogi Berra led the hitting barrage as the New York Yankees overwhelmed the Cleveland Indians, 10-3, today to keep pace in the sizzling American League pennant race.

Detroit defeated Washington 6-1 to maintain a half game lead over the Yankees. Tomorrow the Yankees open a three game series in Detroit that could prove decisive.

Berra hit his 22nd home run of the year into the right field stands in the third, came up with vital singles in the first and sixth, and smashed the ball off Al Rosen's glove in the fourth to score Johnny Hopp.

Rosen was charged with an error, but the play apparently upset Cleveland's ace pitcher, Bob Lemon, who was seeking his 21st victory. Lemon immediately let loose a wild pitch on which Hank Bauer scored from third. Then Cliff Mapes' single brought Berra home. Jess Flores replaced Lemon at this point with the Yankees leading, 8-0.

Wood Delivers

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13 (AP) — Ken Wood's ninth-inning home run put the St. Louis Browns across for a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics tonight — their seventh victory in a string. The A's tied it with two runs in their part of the ninth, but Wood, leading off, parked Carl Sheib's first pitch and Scheib was charged with the loss.

Maglie Near-Misses

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—One of the shortest, flukiest, wettest home runs ever hit in any ball park deprived Sal Maglie of a large helping of pitching immortality today.

The Giants righthander was only five putouts from shattering Carl Hubbell's National League record of 46 1/3 consecutive scoreless innings. Then Gus Bell, Pittsburgh outfielder, plunked the sodden pellet against the screen bordering the right field foul line at the Polo Grounds, 257 feet from home plate. It was the only Pirate run, as New York won the game, called on account of rain after seven innings 3-1.

Had the ball hit two feet to the right, it would have been a foul ball. A foot lower and it would have struck the wall and been held to a harmless single. But it hit the narrow screen which is placed there to assist the umpire in telling foul balls from fair.

Don Mueller picked up the ball and hurled it disgustedly back onto the soaked turf as Bell, who had hit only six previous homers this season, web-footed around the bases. Several thousand Giants fans huddled under the stands gave the offending Pirates a royal booing.

Bell had been the first batter to face Maglie in the seventh inning. Sal swallowed his disappointment and retired the next three Pittsburgh batters in order.

So Maglie, the former Mexican leaguer, salvaged his 16th victory—his 11th straight—of the year against three losses, even though he failed to inscribe his name in the records as the first National League pitcher ever to hurl five straight shutouts or to eclipse Hubbell's 17-year-old record.

Spahn Wins

BOSTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Lefty Warren Spahn chalked up his 19th pitching victory of the season with a four-hit 5-2 decision over the Chicago Cubs tonight to protect the Boston Braves' third place National League ranking from the hard-driving New York Giants.

While winning only their eighth in 21 starts against the lowly Cubs, the Braves belted three flingers for 10 hits. They clinched matters with a three run outburst against starters Paul Minner in the fourth inning on three singles and a pair of errors by Ransom Jackson, rookie third baseman.

Appointed Coach

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP) — Irving Mondschein, three - time national decathlon champion while at New York university, today was appointed coach of the U. S. track team in the Maccabiah games in Israel Sept. 27-Oct. 8. He now is director of athletics at Lincoln university, Oxford, Pa.

Suburban League Playoff Champs

—Mercury Sportsphoto

Spring Mount sprang one of the major upsets of the 1950 area baseball season when it came from fourth place to cop the Suburban League playoff championship, beating Ringing Hill and Graterford en route. Shown above, the Mounts are, first row left to right: Manager Alman Johnson, Walt Musselman, Sam Landis, Jim Kresscholeck, and Ferrill Alderfer; second row: Mark Landis, Dayton Landis, Art Landis, Ken Nace, Randall Haas and Russ Meyers. Fern Meyers, the team's scorer, is standing behind the team.

Pulling or Poling, Easter Reaches Own Homer Target

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP) — Is Luke Easter, Cleveland's clouting rookie, over-coached?

Hank Greenberg, the Tribe's general manager and a hitter of note in his own right, thinks not.

Easter himself doesn't know. He says he is grateful to Greenberg for the batting tips the former Detroit slugger has given him. But he also complains that at times he forgets to swing because he is trying to remember all the things he was told by other tutors.

"They want me to pull the ball to right," the giant Negro first baseman said in a puzzled tone. "But shucks, I'm no pull hitter. I just can't snap my wrists the way pull hitters are supposed to."

Greenberg stoutly defended the Indians' experiment to make a pull hitter out of the left-handed Easter.

"Look," he said earnestly. Easter is our big guy. He is the club's power hitter. Everybody knows he has the potential to become the most feared batter in the game. Right now he probably hits the ball farther than anybody in baseball. In other words, a guy like that can be the difference between a championship team, or just another ball club.

• • •

"LUKE IS A great potential hitter but right now he has glaring faults at the plate," Hank continued. "A man as powerful as he is shouldn't be swinging late as he has been doing. He should hit out in front of the ball.

"Lord knows I've tried to pull the ball but I just can't," groaned Easter. "Maybe I'll get the knack of it next year. But for the meantime I've given up trying. I've always been a straight-away hitter depending upon power in my shoulders rather than on strong wrists.

Easter, whose homer today and a pair against the Yankees yesterday came while hitting "my own way," now has 25 round trippers for the season. That is exactly the total he set for his 1950 goal. Two were hit to center field. The other was pulled to right. Luke's last previous homer came on Aug. 19, nearly a month ago.

Bagnell Passing Sparks Quakers

HERSHEY, Sept. 13 (AP) — Pennsylvania's most efficient passing practice of the week-old training camp clicked as the weather resembled for the first time that most desirable for football.

Reds Bagnell, Penn captain, threw strikes to receivers all over the field in an hour long drill. Bagnell's passing has been the talk of the camp. He was at his best as he threw short bullets to ends Lou Roberts and Tom Hanlon and long distance aerials to halfbacks.

LaMotta Rallies, Kayoes Dauthuille in Final Round

DETROIT, Sept. 13 (AP)—Squat Jake LaMotta dramatically saved his world middleweight title from a long trip to France tonight by coming from behind in the final 13 seconds to knock out Laurent Dauthuille in 2:07 of the 15th round.

While a crowd of 11,424 that paid $71,694 to enter the Olympia Stadium was ready to crown a new champ, the brawler from New York's teeming Bronx smashed the over-confident Frenchman to the canvas with a flurry of blows.

The cards of all three officials showed Dauthuille, a vastly underrated 11 to 5 underdog, ahead before the stunning ending. The AP score card showed the Frenchman out front 8-6 going into the 15th.

Staggering around the ring in the well-known LaMotta style, pretending to be hurt worse than he really was, durable Jake stunned the weary Parisian with a wild flurry in the closing seconds. Unable to take the punishment, Dauthuille toppled halfway through the ropes and tumbled to the floor.

• • •

DAUTHUILLE TRIED to scrape his carcas off the mat at the count of nine. He was almost up at 10, but the referee, who had warned LaMotta repeatedly to step up the action, ruled the bout was over.

Referee Handler had Dauthuille leading 72-68. Judge Joe Lenahan had the Frenchman out front 74-66 and judge Jack Aspery had it 73-67. Under Michigan rules, the point system is scored with kayo points split between the contestants in each round.

Both battlers were well marred at the finish. The champ barely was able to squint through the narrow split that remained of his swollen and cut left eye. Blood dripped from the Frenchman's face through many small cuts through the scalp.

You wouldn't have given a nickel for Jake's chances as his seconds hollered a warning "Last minute." Suddenly he became the brawling mauler of old—not the slow and loggy workman he had been most of the night.

Vacations Suddenly End For Reds in Germany

BERLIN, Sept. 13 (AP) — East Germany's Communist government tonight suddenly canceled vacations for all government officials and employes and ordered those now on leave to return immediately.

The government announcement said this was necessary to "put all forces to work in our great task of improving the living standard of our people."

Western observers believed there was something else up the Communists' sleeve.

Some thought the Communists were summoning all their forces to campaign for the Oct. 15 elections in the Russian zone.

Missionary Doctor To Speak in Church

Dr. Esther Shoemaker, a surgeon on the staff at Kolar, India, will bring a message telling of her work Sunday morning in Spring City Methodist church.

Some 20 years ago the Rev. Charles F. Salkeld, pastor of the local church, was able to interest several persons in the work of this hospital, and they provided some of the equipment for the operating room.

Dr. Shoemaker is home on furlough to help her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Shoemaker, Norristown, celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. While here she has been on active duty in the operating room of the Methodist hospital, Philadelphia. She will return to her post in India soon.

Community Chest Goal Set At $3500 in Royersford

The 1950 goal for Royersford branch of the Community chest was set at $3500 on Monday night, when directors and representatives from participating agencies met to plan for the new campaign which will start Friday, Oct. 13 and run until the end of the month.

While this is slightly higher than the 1949 figure it was felt that higher prices will make this necessary. Plans are being laid by the campaign committee and indications point to the fact that this goal can be not only be met, but exceeded with the co-operation of the community.

Requests for funds for the participating agencies were sanctioned by the board. In general, the aid asked for fell below those amounts requested last year.

Distribution will be as follows: Boy Scouts, $417.23; Girl Scouts, $500; Recreation, $600; Nurse, $800; Library, $650; Welfare, $100; Christmas decoration, $25; Associated Services, $100; Health and Welfare Council, $70; Administrative and miscellaneous expenses, $237.77; total, $3500.

• • •

THE ASSOCIATED SERVICES is a new organization chartered since the beginning of the Korean war and replaces the former USO. Funds will be used to provide for recreation and related facilities for the boys in service.

The Health and Welfare council of Montgomery county sent a representative to the meeting with a request that the Royersford chest participate in a Community Chests committee of Montgomery county.

Purpose of this organization is a co-ordination of aims and objectives along with solicitation of funds in the county in a move to improve the efficiency and the services of member chests. In this connection the Council will consider any problem or proposal of common interest to the chests of the entire county.
